ADVERTISEMENT.

True to its time, THE BOMBAY ALMANAC AND YEAR BOOK OF DIRECTION makes it's appearance on the first of January. This would be little to boast of in other parts of the world, but must be allowed to be something in Bombay, where works of the kind have only been issued with such regularity from the Bombay Gazette press

Already we see the reward of our punctuality, precision and despatch. After but two years' competition we have driven the oldest established Annual of this kind in the place out of the market ; and the other, if it makes it's appearance at all, is not likely to do so,—judging by its antecedents at least,—for a full month after it ought.

By the kind patronage of the public these exertions of our's are made profitable and pleasant both ; but works, not words, shall attest our gratitude ; and, instead of boasting of our success, we hope to show, more and more, that we have deserved it.

BOMBAY GAZETTE OFFICE,

31st December, 1851.

The Almanac

FOR

1852.

NOTICE.—It must be first premised, that the time given in this Almanac is Bombay Mean Solar time, or that that will be shewn by a well-regulated clock.

SUN-RISE AND SUN-SET. The times given in this Calendar shew the instant at which the centre of the visible sun is on the visible horizon of Bombay. In calculating the effects of refraction and the dip of the horizon, the Barometer has been assumed to be 29.80in., the Thermometer 80° Fah., and the height of the observer 15 feet above the level of the sea.

THE TIME OF HIGH WATER at Bombay has been calculated from Tidal Tables prepared at the Observatory, and printed in the volume Part II. of 1847, containing Meteorological and other miscellaneous observations made at that place.

During the year 1852 three Eclipses are visible in the Northern portion of India, but only two in the Southern. In Bombay, of the two visible eclipses, one will take place on the 1st July; it will be that of the Moon, and total. The other, which is only a partial eclipse of the Moon, will happen on the 26th December; at this time the eclipse will begin below the horizon, and the Moon will rise nearly half eclipsed; and that peculiar phenomenon, the appearance of both the Luminaries, at the same time, during an eclipse, will be presented.

NOTE.

THE only explanation which is conceived necessary to render the scheme of the following Calendar fully understood, is that the Christian months indicated at the top of each page, divide the Native months as they appear represented in the space below allotted to their names. Jannat, for example, partakes of the Hindoo months Marroo, Poush and Magh, Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan, Margashursh, and Poush; and Malabar, Dhanuh and Magaram; the Parsee months Shamschoyee, Teer and Amoordad; Kudmee, Amoordad and Sharaver; and the date of Nowroz 127 to 127, and the Mahomedan months Suffer and Rubee-ul-avul.

From the columns is to be collected, that the 1st of January corresponds with the 9th of Poush Vud, Marroo; the 9th of Poush-magh Vud, Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan; 19th of Dhan-Magaram, Malabar; the 7th of Teer, Shamschoyee; the 7th of Amoordad, Kudmee, the 127th day of Nowroz or Kudmee; and the 8th of Rubee-ul-akhur Mahomedan: and so throughout the year.

We have also endeavoured to discriminate the Feasts and Festivals of each nation by different sorts of type; the Hindoos, for example, we have distinguished by Roman small letters, as Magh Shood: the name of the Malabar month by Roman capitals, as MAGARAM; the Parsees by small capitals, as AMOORDAD; the Mahomedan, by Italic small letters, as Mohurram.

HINDOOS.—It may here be observed, that the Hindoo lunar months invariably consist of 30 Tithes, or lunar days: and the whole month is divided into two equal parts, or 15 Tithes each: the one called Shookla Puksh, or Shood—the bright half or increase of the Moon; the other the Kristna Puksh, or Vud, the dark half or decrease of the Moon. The lunar month begins on the western side of India, and south of the Nerbudda river, with the first day of the Shookla Puksh (Shood Frutpuda) or bright half of the Moon—at Benares, Oojein, and the countries north of the Nurbudda, the lunar month begins with the first day of the Kristna Puksh, (Vud Prutipuda), or dark half of the Moon. The first is designated the Sookhladee mode of reckoning : and the latter, the Krishnadee. The lunar year begins with the first day of the Shookla Puksh or bright half of the Moon in Chytr, both north and south of the Nurbudda, in every country in India ; but as the dark half of the Moon precedes the other, or Shookla Pu'sh at Benares, the half lunar month of Chytr is taken from the last luna month of the year preceding, and considered to belong to it.

It has been already stated that the lunar month invariably consists of 30 Tithees or lunar days, but it has been customary with all eastern nations, in order to regulate their fasts and festivals, to drop certain lunar days, and to reckon others twice, to make up the deficiency: the first of these are termed by the Hindoos, Kahnuv Tithees (perishable days,) and the days repeated twice are called Vridh Tithees (additional days.) The rule of these is exceedingly simple. Those lunar days on which the sun does not rise, (Sooryodayu nuheen) are struck out ; those in which it rises twice are Vridh, or additional : and it is obvious that such circumstances will occur about six times in the course of the lunar year.

PARSEES.—There are at present two branches of the Parsees, who differ one month in the year from each other ; those that forward one month in their year are styled Kudmees, and the rest Shaenshoyees. The present scheme embraces the Parsee Era of Yezdezerd, commonly styled Kudmee or Dureayee Nowroz, or sea-reckoning, the same being made use of in all nautical calculations among the Asiatic mariners, the new year of which always commences on the 1st day of Jurverdeen. The Kudmees reckon the new year and the Dureayee Nowroz to fall on the 28th of August, one month earlier than the commencement of the Shaenshoyee's new year. It also embraces the Parsee Era of Yezdezerd, commonly called Shaenshoyee, the new year of which generally begins on the last day of Furdeen. The Shaenshoyees compute the new year to commence from the 27th of September, a month later than the commencement of the Kudmee's new year.

MAHOMEDANS—The first day of Mohurram, or the commencement of the year, is ordinarily reckoned from the first appearance of the moon, after the conjunction observed from an eminence of any sort, or even in cloudy weather from the time at which, but for these obstacles, it would be visible ; and this can scarcely happen earlier than twenty-four or later than forty-eight hours after the conjunction. After this manner each several month is reckoned, and the lapse of twelve such months constitutes the Mahomedan year.

NATIVE FESTIVALS.

HINDOO.

MUCKUR SUNKRANT.—On this day the sun enters the sign "Muckur," or Capricorn.—Vide 12th January. The Hindu festivals are so numerous, and the observances of them are so intricate, that they often bewilder a writer when he sits down to describe them. And it is equally difficult to point out which of the festivals is the greatest. The writers of the Hindu legends have set such enormous merit on the observances of each of them, as to surpass all human comprehension; and they have ever unhesitatingly said that those observances themselves will obtain heaven. Great rejoicings are held among the Hindus, but particularly among the Brahmins, on account of the feast of Muckur Sunkrant, when the sun reaches the most southern sign of the Zodiac, Muckur or Capricornus. From this day till the time of his leaving the most northern, and returning towards the southern sign of the Zodiac, he is called Utarayan; and his passage to the most southern sign is called Dukshanayan. The vernal and autumnal equinoxes divide the Utarayan and Dukshanayan into two equal parts. The days of Utarayan are esteemed lucky, and those of the Dukshanayan unlucky. During the days of Dukshanayan it is said that the gates of heaven are shut, and in the Utarayan they are open. For men to die in the Utarayan is considered more blessed, because they get immediate entrance into heaven; but if the righteous die in the Dukshanayan, they shall have to wait outside of the gates till the Utarayan sets in. In the days of Utarayan, Moonj, the ceremony of investing the youths with the sacred cord, and marriages, are celebrated. The ceremonies that are solemnized at the day of Muckur Sunkrant, just at the time of the sun's entrance into the sign, are these.—The Hindus go to the sea, accompanied by a Brahmin priest, to bathe; there they rub their bodies with tillas,* and wash themselves in the manner prescribed in the Shastra. The Brahmin then repeats certain incantations suited to the occasion, and closes the ceremony by receiving due adoration, and a present of money for himself. On their return home they invite, Brahmins, present them with a cup of bell-metal, filled with tillas and some money, according to the ability of the Yezaman. Some even present the Brahmins with copper pots, new Dhoturs, umbrellas, &c., and the whole family receives benediction from them, which is done by the Brahmins repeating certain words, and throwing on their heads a few grains of red coloured rice. After the performance of this ceremony, they go to take their meals, which consist of sweetmeats. They invite their friends and relations to dinner; and towards evening they wear new clothes, gold and other ornaments, and frequent the houses of their friends and relations, distributing tillas mixed with sugar. At the time of putting the tillas into the parties' hands, they repeat these words, "Receive these tillas mixed with sugar, and be friendly with me throughout the whole year." All the praise and prayers that are offered this day are to the sun, and to no other god. The second day of Sunkrant is named Kur, which is generally celebrated by women by making small presents among those of their own sex.

WESUNT PUNCHAMEE seems to have been instituted in honor of the spring, which season is personified under the name of Wausunta, who is fabled as attending on Kama, or the God of Love.—Vide 26th January.

RTHSUTPUMER is dedicated to the worship of the sun. This day is the beginning of the Manwuntura, or period embracing the reign of a Munoo, of which fourteen govern in succession, during the different ages of the world. The present age is under the dominion of the seventh Munoo; and at the commencement of this period a new sun is supposed to have mounted his chariot.—Vide 28th January.

SHEVARATREE.—A fast day in honor of Sheva, during which the Linga, or Bachio-phallas, is worshipped.—Vide 18th February. Vudh chuttoordassee, or the 25th of every month, is kept sacred by the votaries of Shiva; but Mayh vudh chuttoordassee has obtained its peculiar epithet, Maha Sheva Ratree, or the great night of Sheva. The Hindu legends account in the following manner for its notoriety among the rest of Sheva Ratrees. In time immemorial an archer of wicked and licentious habits, went into a forest this day, to shoot deer. He spent the whole day in the pursuit of his game, and, on a sudden, night came on, and he was left to the mercy of the wild beasts. When he found himself in such a forlorn condition, he had recourse to a Bale or *Bilwa tree to secure himself from attack. Having got upon the tree, by way of relaxation, or to get a clearer view, he broke off all the branches that hung around and above his head, and flung them down: fortunately the twigs which he threw fell on the Linga of Sheva, which was near the foot of the tree. Sheva was so much pleased and satisfied by the accidental worship of his votary, that he forthwith sent a Veman, or heavenly chariot, and took the hunter into Kylas, his own abode, with acclamations of joy. To commemorate this great event of the entrance of the archer into Kylas, the Hindus observe a fast this day, and worship Sheva in hopes of obtaining like merit. Observance of Sheva Rutree:—This day the votaries of Sheva fast, and, in the night, repair to the temples of Sheva, accompanied by a Brahmin priest, who performs Pooja by repeating certain incantations: first he pours some water over the Linga, and washes it, and afterwards he decorates it with choice flowers. When this is done, the priest takes his sacred book, wherein Sheva's thousand different names are written, and reads the names: and the Yajaman, the worshipper, flings a leaf of Bale over the head of the Linga each time. This kind of Pooja is performed four different times during the night, and thus wake is kept up for the whole night. This is styled the Pooja of the four Praharas, or watches. It commences at about eight p. m. and ends at five a. m. This night the Pagodas of Sheva are thronged by devotees. Some persons engage twelve Brahmins, and others four, &c., to perform the Pooja, according to the abilities of the Yajaman. The Brahmins must be liberally paid for their labours.

HOLEE (Sanskrit—HOLIKA or PHALGUTSUVA).—This festival, called also Dohutra, or the swinging festival, is supposed by Sir W. Jones to relate to the vernal equinox, and to be similar to the Persian Nowroz. It commences fifteen days before the full moon, on which the ceremonies are terminated, and is held in honor of Krishna. In the freedom with which the lower classes now behave towards their superiors, this festival resembles the Roman Saturnalia; and, in the sending people on bootless errands, it corresponds with our 1st of April. Red powders are daubed upon the image of the god, and thrown and squirted by his worshippers on each other, while females are saluted by exclamations and jests of no very chaste description. The wheaten cake which is placed on the pile lighted at the close of the festival is called polley, and the right of first offering it in a village is considered as an honorary privilege. Neither the origin of this festival, nor the manner in which it is observed, can be described. Nor is this manner of observing it confined to the lower classes of the native community—the highest apparently joining in it with the same zest as the lowest. This festival nominally continues from the new to the full moon, but only a few of the last days are practically and openly devoted to it. For two or three days no respectable women appear in the streets, so obscene and abusive is the language in almost every one's mouth, and applied to any woman that they may happen to see. It is often called Shingra, from the name of the month in which it occurs.—Vide 16th March.

THE HINDOO NEW YEAR (Shaliyan, called Goody Palwa).—On the morning of this day a Hindoo first rubs oil upon his body, and then bathes himself with warm water. A pole bearing a flag, and surmounted with a brass or copper vessel, is erected in front of the house. One such pole must be erected by each family. This represents the banner of Indra, the king of the gods, which on this day is also raised in honor of him by the gods. What is done here on earth is therefore in imitation of what takes place in the heaven of Indra. The leaves of the bitter nimble tree are then to be eaten, which secures health to the body, because this tree is the offspring of the Ambrosia of the gods. The almanac for the New Year is then to be worshipped, and its predictions, in regard to the year just commencing, are to be heard from the mouth of the Jotishces. They tell whether there is to be an abundance or a scarcity of rain, whether there will be unusual heat or cold, whether robberies, insurrections, &c. are to abound, whether unusual sickness is to prevail, &c. &c. Each individual on this day also learns what he is to expect during the year: whether health or sickness, prosperity or adversity, is to be his portion, &c. &c. All this important information is not, of course, to be obtained without some compensation. And not only are presents to be given to the Jotishces, but the poor people are taught on this day to extend their liberality also to the Gooroes and Brahmins. The day is also to be celebrated by feasting. This is an auspicious day for commencing a new building, or engaging in any new undertaking.—Vide 21st March.

*A favourite tree of Sheva's, and which is held sacred among the Hindoos.

RAM NOWMEE.—On this day Ramehundru, the 7th incarnation of Vishnoo, was born at Ayodhya, or Oude, about B. C. 1600.—Vide 29th March. Rama is supposed to be the same as the Grecian Dionysius or Bacchus, and the object of the incarnation was to effect the destruction of Rawun, the ten-headed tyrant of Lanka or Ceylon, which was at last done with the assistance of Hanooman, the chief of the monkey tribe. The birth of Rama is, strange to say, celebrated eight days previous to its occurrence, that is, from the first of Chytru Sookh to the ninth. From the first day the temples of Rama are white-washed, and illuminated in the evening, and the image of Rama is adorned with costly ornaments. In the evening the Ramayan, or the sacred legendary history of Rama, is read in the temples, and in the night Kirtan is preached by the Hurridass, who describes the morality and heroic actions of Rama. Nautes are also not omitted during the night. In some temples Brahmins are fed with a rich and substantial dinner for eight successive days; these days are denominated Rama naoratree, or nine nights of Rama. During these days many Hindus, both males and females, go to the temples of Rama to hear the Kirtan and Pooran. The last or principal day is Ramnowmer, when, it is said, Rama became incarnate at noon. In honour of this incarnation, the Hindus fast the whole day. They get up in the morning, wash themselves, and put on rich clothes and ornaments, and repair to the temples of Rama at about nine o'clock. Every temple of Rama is well furnished this day, and images are decorated with precious ornaments and rich brocade. A Hurridass is engaged to describe the birth and circumstances that attended this incarnation. He continues his prattling till twelve o'clock, when he brings a small image of Rama, nicely ornamented and well clad and shows it to his audience, and tells them that it is Rama, who became incarnate; and puts it into a small cradle prepared for the purpose. The assembly then throw themselves prostrate before the image and worship it. Great is the rejoicing and acclamation of the assembly on this occasion, they fling gohul, a red powder, on each other, and with great mirth about one o'clock they return home, and again go to the temples in the evening. The feast of Ramnowmee is more particularly observed by the votaries of Vishnu.

VUD SEVITREE (SAVITREE VROUTM).—A fast observed by women at the root of the Indian fig tree, to preserve them from widowhood.—Vide 13th June.

ASHLAADY EKADASSEE is the eleventh of the light half of the moon Ashad, and is dedicated to Vishnu. On this day, which refers to the summer solstice, commences the night of the gods, during which the deity reposes for four months on the serpent Seslu.—Vide 27th June.

NAG PUNCHAMEE is sacred to the demigods in the form of serpents. Ceremonies are performed on this day to ensure protection against the bites of snakes. Vide 21st July. The serpent Kaliya, slain by Krishna, is worshipped at the festival, as was Pythun, at Delphi.

SHERAWEN NARAYUL (OR NARULL POORNIMA).—On this day the rainy season is considered to be at an end, and a cocoa-nut is offered up to the sea to gain its favour towards those who now begin to trust themselves to its mercy.—Vide 31st July.

JUNMA AND GOKUL USHTMEE (JUNMA ASHTMEE).—Instituted in commemoration of the birth of Krishna, which took place at midnight in the city of Muthoor. Krishna, who in many respects agrees with the Grecian Apollo, was the eighth incarnation of Vishnoo, in which, according to a large sect of Hindus, was manifested a greater portion of divinity than in any of the preceding ones. His uncle Koeksu, who it was predicted would be slain by one of his own family, endeavoured to ensure the destruction of the infant god, by placing guards over his pregnant sister, but the child was preserved from this and other attempts of his relations, who subsequently gave directions for the slaughtering of all newly-born infants.—Vide 7th and 8th August. This holiday is considered one of the greatest among the Hindus, and is therefore observed by almost all the Hindu community; there are two sects among the followers of Krishna, and they solemnize the feast on different days. Those belonging to the one keep the birth-day of Krishna on the eighth day of the dark moon, and those belonging to the other the day following, being the one on which he was removed to Gokul, to the house of Nanda, through fear of his maternal uncle, who sought his destruction; and some even keep both days. The former fast on the day of Junma Ashtumi, and the latter on the day of Gokul Ashtumi. They fast the whole day, and at night they bathe and worship an image of the infant Krishna, adorning it with twice, a la-vorite plant of Vishnu's, and with other flowers, in the manner enjoined in the Shashtra; and at about ten or eleven P. M. they eat their Pluhar food, which consists of fruits and some kind of grains, being prohibited from eating rice and other grains that day. A Brahmin is called in to perform the Pooja, and afterwards he himself is worshipped, and sent away loaded with Dakshina and other presents. This is all done according to the rules of the Shashtra. The holiday is thus observed among the people of the higher castes. On the day of Gokul Ashtumi, gowles (or keepers of cattle) keep a great jubilee among themselves, as Krishna was bred up among their race. They join themselves into a company, and frequent the houses of the people who follow their profession, holding each other's hands, dancing in the street, and repeating these words, "Govinda, Govinda," where they are honored either by throwing over them curds, or presenting them a certain quantity of curds. These people are called Gopalla—protectors of cows. But the most extraordinary thing relating to this festival is the following: On the night of Jannai Ashtumi, crowds of people, generally of the lower ranks, flock into the temple of Canoba, which is commonly known by the name of Muth; there they hire native music, and continue shouting and making a great noise, so as to deafen one's ears. The Bhugat of Canoba, or the head of the temple, who is very often of the Shudra caste, and who is considered a supernatural being, at least at that time, with great solemnity and grave countenance makes his way through the assembly and stands before the shrine of Canoba, and offers prayers to the idol of Canoba, which is richly decorated on the occasion, accompanied by the playing of tom-toms, and acclamations of joy from his disciples. He is at first quite calm, but shortly after shows signs of inspiration by the god. He begins to untie his shendi, or the tuft of hair on the crown of his head, and then slowly shakes his limbs. By degrees his whole frame quivers, and he throws his whole body into violent contortions, dancing and muttering strange ambiguous and wild sounds, which no one can understand. He then takes his scourge, which is kept near the shrine, and scours himself as if he were insane, and performs many other equally strange actions. No sooner does the assembly around see him in this predicament, than, believing that the spirit of the god has entered into him, they burn incense before him, and fall prostrate, and pray to him to be merciful to them. When he has received divine homage, he quietly takes his seat; but does not cease quaking and trembling. His disciples, who are always near him, then commence one after another to shake themselves and dance in the same way; and the spirit of the god is believed to enter them also. This day the great Bhugat can create new disciples, and give them the power of bringing the spirit of the god into their bodies. Sick persons, persons possessed of devils, children, &c., are brought to the temple to receive the benediction of the Bhugat and his disciples. He rubs a little ashes on their foreheads, passes his hand over their heads, and gives them full assurance of their speedy recovery from their sickness without taking any medicine. The poor patient, with full confidence, returns home, expecting the fulfilment of the Bhugat's promise; but probably, to his great disappointment and distress, he gets worse, or is perhaps cut off next day. It is a great wonder, notwithstanding such disappointments, that the eyes of the ignorant are not opened to see the impotency and imposition of the Bhugat, for they still remain as faithful to him as ever. It is the subtlety of his speech, and the dexterity of his actions, that delude them. The Bhugat receives large presents on this occasion from the followers of his tenets, and he is held in great respect among the orthodox Hindus, and even among persons of some other tribes too. On the following morning, the Bhugat collects the circle of his disciples in front of the temple and orders a sufficient quantity of curds to be thrown over their heads to wet their whole bodies: they all begin to dance in company, holding each other's hands, and occasionally throwing themselves on the ground and besmearing their bodies with mud, shouting as loudly as they can. The Bhugat, in the meantime, with a scourge in his hand, forces his way into the crowd with all his pretended dignity, and stands in the midst of the crowd, and looks in all directions in his feigned solemnity, and then lifts up his powerful scourge and puts it around the neck of one of his disciples as a token of his regard, and draws him towards himself; when the disciple trembles a little, and then stands firm, stretching his hands towards the sky, with his eyes closed. No sooner does the Bhugat see him in this state, than he scourges him two or three times, so adroitly that it gives him no pain, while to the eye of the spectators it appears a prodigy that he does not feel it. This is repeated till he has shown the same mark of approbation to the whole body of his disciples,—when he ceases, and sweetmeats are distributed among the disciples and to all the spectators. Thus terminates the feast of Gokul Ashtumi among the people of the Shudra caste.

PITHOOREK, OR PRACHEEHIEE AUMAWASYU.—A ceremony observed at the New moon of the month Shrawan, at which the 64 Yoginees, or female attendants of the Goddess Doorga, are worshipped—particularly it is said by women, with the hope of obtaining issue.—Vide 15th August. The 30th of the month of Shrawan, or the last day of the dark half of the moon, is denominated "Prachee Aumawasyu." Prachee is, it is supposed, one of the goddesses of the East. She is commonly known among the people of the Konkan and Deccan by the name of Pethoorie. Wealthy Banians and other people of Guzerat go to Walkeshwar on the previous evening with their families, to remain in the Dhurrumsalla during the night; and, on the subsequent morning, they bathe in the tank of Walkeshwar. (This tank is called by the natives Ban-gunga, i. e., the Ganges produced by an arrow; and they give a marvellous account of its origin. They say, when Rama visited this part of the world, and found that there was no pure water to drink, he pierced the ground with an arrow from his bow, and thus brought the Ganges into existence.) They also perform shraddhus on the margin of the tank, and ceremonies for procuring the deliverance of their departed ancestors from the thralldom of Yama, the king of the infernal regions, if they still remain at his court or in his dominions. They afterwards repair to the temple of Walkeshwar and worship his image, after which they take their meals. The remaining part of the day is spent in amusements, among which gambling is not overlooked or neglected. Booths are erected on the locality of the temple, and furnished with all kinds of the choicest articles that please the fancy or delight the taste. The Hindus on this occasion squander away hundreds of rupees in hiring vehicles, and buying toys and sweetmeats for their children. This holiday is not observed by the majority of the inhabitants of the Konkan and Deccan. It is kept up chiefly by those women who lose their children in infancy. They fast this day, and worship an image of Pethoorie, by adorning it with various kinds of fruits and flowers, through the medium of a Bramhin priest.

GUNESH CHORTH, OR CHIRTHOORTHIE.—On this day was born Gunputtee, or Gunesh, who is considered as the God of prudence, and invoked, like Janus, at the commencement of all undertakings. The manner of his birth is differently told: one story relates that as the god Kartikeyu was created by Shiva without connubial assistance, in like manner Gunputtee was formed by his consort Parvuttee from the turmeric and oil scraped off from her own body while bathing. The loss of his human head, and the substitution of that of a female elephant with one tusk, is also variously explained. By some, his head is said to have been cut off by Shiva when he endeavoured to prevent the god from entering the chamber of Parvuttee when performing her ablutions as above. According to other accounts, it was reduced to ashes by a glimpse from the eyes of Shunee or Saturn, when all the gods went to look at the newly-born child, and its place supplied by that of the animal first found, which happened to be an elephant. Clay images of the deity are formed, and after having been worshipped for nine or ten days, are thrown into the water. The Chin-chore or Chinchwad (properly Deo), who resides at the village of that name near Poona, is supposed to be an incarnation of this god, who granted to a holy Goeayeen who had won his favour, that the divinity should be continued in his family for seven generations: and though the present one has exceeded that limit, the miracle is perpetuated by the Brahmins, for self-interest.—Vide 17th Sept. It is commonly said among the Hindus, that the Shastra enjoins its followers the worship of Mritica, earth, in the following forms, three times a year. The first of these is Nag-punchmee, on which day a snake of clay is made and worshipped; the second is Gokul Ashtumeer, when a clay image of the infant Krishnu is made and worshipped; and the third and last is Gunesh Chuttoorthee, on which day a clay image of Gunesh is worshipped. This being the last day of the worship of Mritica, it is observed with greater pomp and more ceremonies, conviviality, and music, than the two others. The image worshipped on this occasion has four hands and an elephant's head. The mouse, being Gunputtee's favourite vehicle, is also placed near his image, richly saddled and bridled. Besides this, the worship of Gunesh may be traced to his origin. But different accounts are given in different Purans of that origin, and the consequent introduction of his worship, which it would be rather a difficult task to detail. The image of Gunputtee is either made in the house or purchased from an artist; it is gilt with the finest gold, and painted with superior and variegated colours: much labor and ingenuity is bestowed on it by some to render it elegant and attractive, according to the taste and pecuniary means of the worshipper. The 4th of the month of Bhadrapud is the appointed period for the celebration of this feast. On the previous day, the worshipper cleans and whitewashes his house, and furnishes it with all sorts of costly furniture that can be procured. The profusion of light is the first thing that would attract one's eye. On the following morning, i. e., on the day of Ganesh Chaturthi they bring the image home (if it be bought) with great splendour, accompanied by native music, and with all the honors of a god. A place where the god is to be seated is prepared, either in the form of a covered shrine or open space, which is adorned with all kinds of fruits and flowers strowed round it, and twigs of trees hung over in clusters; after which commences the business of the officiating priest, who sits near the master of the house, and begins consecrating the idol, by reciting incantations or mantras from his book, and throwing over it red coloured rice: thus, after performing many consecrative ceremonies, he brings from heaven the god head into the image on earth. Being thus installed, the devotee places before him Nayabedh food, which consists of sweetmeats, and invokes the god to partake of the offering. Afterwards he falls before him, and prays him to be gracious to him and his family. To perform the whole Puja, according to the rules of the Shastra, requires at least three or four hours' time. By the generality of the people Ganapati is kept one day and a half; but by some five or ten days, according to the wealth and wish of the proprietor. A discourse is delivered in commemoration of his godly exploits by a Hurridass in his presence, to which friends and relatives are invited to attend. A large party of Brahmins are entertained at a sumptuous dinner, in honor of Ganesh, and they are then dismissed with the usual Dakshinna. On the last day preparations for his departure are made. Evening is the appointed time for parting, when the master of the house performs Ooterpaja through the priest, who takes away the divinity with which the image was invested, by repeating certain mantras or charms; flowers, fruits, and sweetmeats, are offered to the idol, and arce, that is, lighted wicks, are moved before him, accompanied with music and hymns; and he is invoked to bless the owner and his family, and remove any calamity that might befall them through the year. Afterwards the Brahmins are presented with Dakshinna, and the image is seated in a palanquin, or in an ark expressly made for the purpose, adorned with fresh flowers, and carried to the sea or tank in a procession, which consists of the master of the house, his children, and relatives, who are richly attired on the occasion. When they reach the place, they take out the image and commit it to the water, with every devout feeling of regret for its absence till next year. On the day of Ganesh Chaturthi the Hindus are prohibited by the Shastra from looking at the moon, and therefore prejudiced and credulous Hindus are afraid to look at her this evening, for fear of incurring any calamities throughout the year. If the vulgar people happen to see the moon, they try to provoke their neighbours to abuse them, and comfort themselves with the idea that the calamities incurred will be all comprehended in that abuse, and removed by it.

RUSHI PUNCHAMEE.—Observed in honor of the seven rishies or sages, who are supposed to be the seven bright stars in the Great Bear.—Vide 18th September.

GOWRI.—One of the names of the goddess Parvatee.—Cakes are made in the shape of pebbles, and eaten at night time.—Vide 19th September.

WAMUN DWADASHEE.—Instituted in commemoration of the fifth incarnation of Vishnu, in the shape of a dwarf, to prevent Bullee from obtaining dominion over the three worlds through the effects of his religious austerities. Bullee promised the dwarf at his own request to grant him as much land as he could compass at three steps. On the ratification of this promise, the first two strides of the incarnate deity embraced the heaven and the earth: there being now no place for him to put down his foot for the third time, Bullee magnanimously told him to put it on his head, which the dwarf having done, crushed him down to Patala, the dominion of which was conceded to the ambitious monarch.—Vide 25th September.

PITRU PURNI.—The dark half of the month Bhadrapad, and sacred to the Pitris, or progenitors of mankind, to whose heaven the souls of the deceased ascend after the celebration of funeral rites, which is particularly proper during this season.—Vide 28th September.

DUSSERA.—This festival, called Doorga Pooja, or Dorgotsava is supposed to relate to the autumnal equinox. On this day, in commemoration of the victory of Devee, the wife of Shiva, over the monster Maheeshasoor, her images, after having been worshipped for nine days, are thrown into the water.—Vide 22nd October. On this day also Ramu marched against Rawanne, on which account the Mahrattas seem to have selected it as a proper period for commencing their plundering excursions. This day is observed thus :—Early in the morning the Hindoos, having washed themselves, perform the pūja of their household gods in conjunction with that of all their shastrical grnths or religious books. Marathas and Kshitrias, or those who consider themselves of the military race, worship the implements of war, and ask protection of them throughout the year, under a conception that to the propitiousness of the sword they owe every prosperity. Thereafter at noon they take dinner in the company of their relatives, who have been invited on the occasion. In the afternoon they go to the temples in procession with friends, and relatives, and children, richly attired. Moombadavee and Boolaishwur are the principal scenes. Both of these places are thronged by dense masses of Hindoos, bearing each in his hand flowers and a branch of a certain tree (Apta) denominated sona (gold), which is held highly sacred and indispensable in commemorating this day. On entering is the temple they offer the sona and flowers to the image, accompanied with prayer; they also give sundry Duzuna to the Brahmins, and return home, visit their friends and relatives, present them with a hearty embrace, and receive similar treatment in return at the time. The sona forms the chief article of the Dussera holiday. The vicinity or front of the above temples is surrounded by the venders of this plant, who range themselves with baskets full of branches in bundles. At night an illumination is made. This day is considered by the Hindoos most auspicious for sending their children, who are beginners, to school. The preceding days of the Dussera are called nouratree, a compound word for nine nights. During these previous nine days, the devotees of Durga keep themselves holy, engage a Brahmin to read hymns before her, in which her exploits are extolled, and her rewards to her votaries are described. On the ninth day, at every temple of Durga, or Hurun, a sacred fire is created and fed with rice and clarified butter, and adored by the repeating of munttras. It is customary among the Banian women to keep up a dance during these nine nights, called Gurba, which is accompanied with religious songs. The celebration of the Dussera owes its origin to the Panduas, the five sons of Pandoo having selected this day, after completing their exile of twelve years, as an auspicious one for making preparations for the tremendous war with their paternal cousins, the Gourawas, of which the Puranas give an account, occupying the whole volume. The Hindoos decorate the horses with flowers this day, putting garlands of flowers around their necks. It is said that Parth, the most invincible of the five Panduas, who had a peculiar fondness for horses and a pre-eminent skill in the art of chariot fighting, and from being auxiliaries in the matters of battle, washed his favourite milk white horses with great warlike spirit, put garlands of flowers around their necks, and tapped them, in token of fondness and approbation, with his own hand : owing to this legend, it seems, the decorating the horses with flowers this day is observed.

DEWALLIE.—(from Depawali, Sanscrit, signifying a row of lamps)—is celebrated in honor of the goddess Kalce, or Bluwancee, who was formerly propitiated by human sacrifices, and of Vishnu's victory over the demon Tareekce.—Vide 11th Nov. The festival, however, seems to be more peculiarly consecrated to Laksmece, or the goddess of prosperity. The first day (Ushwin wudh) is termed Dhanootrugadashce, and Sowkars now count their stores and perform pooja to their wealth. On the Umaavasya, or new moon, there being a fresh account, Pooja is again performed before the old and new books. The festival lasts altogether five days. The Dewallee means the feast of illumination, or ranges of light. It is celebrated for the period of five days, during which houses are cleaned, white-washed, and illuminated : a quadrangular floor is made in front of the house, and painted with different coloured powders ; it is called Rangolce. Gambling is the chief recreation of the feast. The Dewallee commences from the 28th day of Ashwenwudh,—this day is denominated Dhuntriyodashee. This day they collect all the treasure in their houses and worship it, giving the name of Laxumee the goddess of wealth ; a light is made and dedicated to Yama, the god of the infernal regions, and every preparation is made for the succeeding morning. Fireworks, crackers, spouters, &c., are displayed, and gambling shops are opened, which continue till the end of the holidays. The 29th is Nurruckchutordashce. This day Vishnu killed Nurruckasoor, an invincible giant, after a desperate battle, and entered his city early in the morning with the palm of victory, when the people illuminated the city, and received him with great joy and acclamation ; and the women of the city, having adorned themselves, went before him with lighted lamps and congratulated him. The Hindus keep this day to commemorate this great conquest. This day they get up early in the morning, fill the house with lights, rub their bodies with perfumed ointment, and bathe themselves with hot water. No member of the family is left unbathed : new clothes and ornaments are put on, and children are decorated. When this is done, the mistress of the house performs a sort of ceremony called Arthee—by placing wicks either in silver or brass dishes, which mean that God would remove all the difficulties and make the year happy—when each male member makes her a present of money; sweetmeats are distributed, and friends are invited to dinner. The 80th, Amavashya, last day of the moon, is the day of Saraswuttee, the goddess of learning and wealth. It is vulgarly known by the name of Pedipoonj, or the worship of the shops. This day the year of Vikram Samvat, or Vikram's era, closes: all the merchants close their accounts this evening. New journals, ledgers, and day books are bought and worshipped through a Brahmin priest; new entries are made in the account books; writers are sent to different shops with rupees to credit in their names, on this auspicious evening. Saraswuttee is invoked to render the subsequent year prosperous, and to be with them throughout the year; then the Brahmins are sufficiently paid for their labors, and servants receive a present of some money, according to their rank; this day is celebrated by all classes of people—Banians, Parsees, Mahomedans, &c. The first day of Kartick Shoodh is Baliraj, the day of king Bali. This day Bali was sent to Patal, or the lower region, by Vishnoo, for his great merit. They also rise up very early in the morning, make the lights, clean the houses, wash their bodies, and fill a basket with all the rags and rubbish in the house, put a lighted lamp over it, and throw it outside of the house, repeating these words, "Let all the misery and troubles go, and the kingdom of Bali come." After the ablution, the women make an image of Bali Rajah and worship it; presents are given to the Brahmins and other mendicants; and playing with dice is continued with greater ardour and spirit than ever. The 2nd day of Kartick Shoodh is Yama Dwitiya, which is commonly known by the name of Bharvi. This day Yama, the king of the infernal regions, went to his sister to dine, and to perpetuate the memory of this the Hindus must go to their sisters' houses and take their meal with them, and make them a present of some money or gold ornament, and thus please the king, who will save them from the punishment of their sins.

KARTICK EKADASHEE—is the eleventh day (in some years the fourteenth) of the light half of the month Kartik, and is celebrated in honor of Vishnoo. On this day the god is supposed to rise from his slumber of four months—a fable which has reference to the sun at the winter solstice.—Vide 22nd November.

KARTICK POORNIMA—is the full moon of the month Kartik. On the fifteenth of this month, as well as of Magh, Ashad, and Vaishak, each of which day is called "Dhanumasya Kuru," gifts to Brahmins are considered indispensably necessary. Shiva also is said to have gained his victory at this season over the monster "Tripoorasura."—Vide 26th November. Kartik Shoodh Poornima, the full moon in the month of Kartik, is called the Tree Poora Soora, master of the three cities. This demon is said to have become so powerful that he defeated almost all the gods, and drove them out of their habitations; when they formed a levee, and went to Kylas, the abode of Shiva, and represented to him their grievances; who, after lending an ear to their pitiful supplication, comforted them by the assurance that the evil should be soon removed, and sent them back to their respective homes. He accordingly made a car of the earth, the wheels of which were the sun and the moon. Brahma was chosen his charioteer, the mountain Hymalia formed his bow, and Wasooky, the king serpent, his bowstring. Vishna himself became his quiver. Thus equipped, Shiva rode himself in it, and destroyed the mighty giant after a struggle. To perpetuate the memory of this great event, the women of the Hindus get up very early in the morning this day, at about two o'clock, and wash themselves in cold water, and repair to the temple of Shiva, and worship his image. Afterwards they return home, and present a Brahmin with a lighted lamp, made either of silver, copper, or brass, according to their ability, along with some fruits and dukshena, a present in hard cash; this is called Deepdan, or present of a lamp. In the evening an illumination is made in the temples of Shiva, and a pillar of stones built in front of all of them for this special occasion. A grand fair is also celebrated this day in honor of Walleeshwar, an image of Shiva at Malabar Hill. It is kept for three days, when booths are erected, and shops are adorned with all kinds of articles by the people of all denominations. The Hindus, both the rich and poor, Brahmins and Shoodras, go there and worship the image of Shiva and buy sweetmeats and toys for their children. Some of the wealthy Hindus remain there with their families for three or four days in the Dharmshala, or inns built by them, but the poor return the same evening. During these days hundreds of rupees are spent in hiring conveyances, and purchasing sweetmeats and toys. Among the many other entertainments, gambling is not overlooked.

BIRTH CEREMONIES.

Different ceremonies are prescribed by the Shasters to be observed at the period of conception, and the different stages of pregnancy. "Jathurm" is to be performed at the birth of the infant, and consists in giving it a drop of honey out of a golden spoon before dividing the navel string. Other rites are to be observed on naming the child twelve days after birth—on bringing him outside the house when three months old—on feeding him with the hand at six months—and, if a male, on shaving his head at the age of three years.

MARRIAGE CEREMONIES.

Among Brahmins the male may be married at any time after the "Moonj," or investiture with the sacred thread, which is done within the age of eight years, and among other castes at any age. The female should not be ten years old, and her age must be less than that of her husband; and she should be married before the appearance of the signs of puberty. The Shastrees mention eight kinds of marriage, but only one is observed by the "higher castes," named Bruhma, when the charges are severally incurred by the fathers of the parties. The principal marriage ceremonies among Brahmins are the "Lugunputricka," or writing by the Joshee or Astrologer of the names of the parties, and the day and hour at which the wedding is to take place; the "Suptapudee," or walking round a fire three times, at each time seven steps, and tying together the garments of the parties, and the home or burnt offering; after which the contract is indissoluble. The girl is given away by her father in his own house, in which it is usual for her to remain till the appearance of the signs of puberty, after which she proceeds to the residence of her father-in-law, where her husband also resides, or to that of the latter, should it be otherwise. Particular months and junctions of the planets are prescribed for the celebration of marriages in different castes; as also the same castes in different countries have their peculiar ceremonies, which are too various to be described here. The "Phulshobun" is the performance of certain ceremonies on the occurrence of the first menstruous symptoms.

DEATH CEREMONIES.

On the death of a man, the performance of his funeral obsequies (Kriyas), and of the monthly and annual purificatory ceremonies, devolves on his heir. The principal times for performing "Shradh" are eleven days after death; secondly, every month; and thirdly, on the anniversary of death. Brahmins are unclean for ten days after the death of a relation,—the military class for twelve,—the mercantile for fifteen,—and Shoodras for thirty. Among the Hindoos, generally, the body of the deceased is burnt, but that of an infant under two years of age is buried. The "Shradh" consists in the offering of rice, flowers, water, &c., to the deceased and to his manes, in order to enable his soul to ascend to the heaven of the Pitris, or great progenitors of the human race.

MAHOMEDAN FESTIVALS.

RUMZAUN.—This Mahomedan fast commences each day throughout the month of this name, when the first streak of light borders the eastern horizon, and continues until the stars are clearly discerned in the heavens. During the whole period not the slightest particle of food, not one single drop of water, nor any other liquid, passes the lips from the dawn till the appearance of the stars in the evening. Each day during the fast is passed in occasional prayer, besides the usual namaz, and in reading the Koran or the lives of the prophets—Vide 20th July. The fast is first broken by a cooling draught called Dundhie, the same which is used in fevers. It is composed of the seeds of lettuce, cucumber, and melon, with coriander, all well pounded, and afterwards diluted with cold water; rose-water, sugar, syrup of pomegranate, and kurat, are also added: the whole preparation is made in the zenanah, and then drunk by basins full by true Rozdahurs. Plain boiled rice, with dhie (sour-curd), and sugar forms the first morning's repast of the Eed: dried dates are eaten with it in remembrance of the prophet's family, whose greatest luxury was supposed to be the dates of Arabia. The conclusion of the month Rumzaun is celebrated as an Eed or festival, and is hailed with great rejoicing and merriment, as a sort of reward for their severe abstinence. In every house the same dainties are provided, every amusement that can be thought of is indulged in; the Nautch-women in the apartments of the gentlemen, and the domence in those of the ladies, are in great request, the Zenanahs ring with festive songs : and all is life, joy, cheerfulness and cordiality, on this last day of the Rumzaun, when the lady of the mansion sits in state to receive muzzurs from inferiors, and to grant favors to others.

EED.—The followers of Mahomed claim to be the descendants of Abraham through his son Ishmael, who, they aver, was chosen as the offering to the Almighty, and not Isaac, thus differing from the belief of the Jews and Christians, and supporting their assertions by traditions which they deem conclusive evidence on the subject, in opposition to the authority of the Bible. The offering thus made to heaven is annually commemorated by the sacrifice of particular animals, such as camels, sheep, goats, kids, or lambs, according to each person's means, and answers the double purpose of honoring the memory of Abraham and Ishmael, and also assisting to a meal in a time of great need. The followers of Mahomed believe that the entrance to Paradise is guarded by a bridge made of a scythe, or some such equally sharp instrument, affording a precarious and unstable footing. To enable them, therefore, to pass without danger, they believe that the number of animals they have sacrificed at the feast of Eed will be present to lend their aid to help them over in safety.

EED KORBAN.—In commemoration of Abraham offering up Isaac, but in Mahomedan estimation Ishmael; and this is the day on which they annually perform the Huj at Mecca.—Vide 25th September.

MOHURRUM.—A celebrated mourning festival, held annually, in remembrance of the first martyrs of the Mussulmans—Hassein and Hossein—the eldest sons of Fatima and Ali, from whom the whole race of the Syuds have generated. Hassein was poisoned by an emissary of the usurping Calipha, and Hossein, the last victim of the descendants of the prophet's family to the king Yezed's fury, suffered a cruel death, after the most severe trials, on the plain of Karbulla, on the tenth day of the Arabian month Mohurrum, the anniversary of which catastrophe is solemnized with the most devoted zeal. Hassein and Hossein were, as above stated, the two sons of Ali, by his cousin Fatima, the daughter of Mahomed; and after the murder of their father by the contrivances of the Calipha, they with their families removed from Shawn the capital, to Medina. After residing there for several years, the people of Shawn, being tired of king Yezed's tyrannical rule, invited Hossein to return to the capital and take up his lawful right as Emaum (Leader of the Faithful.) Before accepting this invitation, Hossein sent Moslem, his cousin, as a messenger, to report the true state of affairs to him; but on his arrival with his two sons at Shawn, he was seized by order of king Yezed, and cast from a precipice, and his two innocent sons were barbarously murdered, for the sake of the reward offered for their heads. This forms the subject of the ten days' bewailing during the Mohurrum. The Mahomedans are divided into distinct sects, called the Shcas and the Soonies. The former believe Ali and his descendants to be the lawful leaders after Mahomed, and the latter are persuaded that the Caliphas, as Abouluker, Omer, &c., are the only leaders to be accredited—hence quarrels, animosities, and dislikes are hoarded up, to be avenged during the Mohurrum. The festival begins on the first day of the moon (Mohurrum). Tazias, (a term signifying grief, and applied to a representation of the Mausoleum erected over the remains of Amam Hossein at Karbulla.) made of ivory, ebony, sandal-wood, cedar, and some wrought in silver filigree, and indeed of every variety of material from pure silver to bamboo and paper, according to the rank and wealth of the party, are exhibited in every direction, and conveyed in procession through the streets. Mourning assemblies are held morning and evening, in the Knaum Barrahs, during the Mohurrum, and the head priest or preacher recites a subject for each day's service, from the various books composed on the subject descriptive of the life and sufferings of Hassein and Hossein. The Mursecchah, a poetical composition of great merit, and embracing all the subjects they meet to commemorate, is chaunted with great effect : the names of their lawful leaders are recounted with blessings, and that of their usurpers, the Caliphas, with curses. Then comes the procession of Dhal Dhall, the name of Hossein's horse killed at Karbulla, beautifully caparisoned; and finally the Tazias are deposited with funeral rites in the public burial grounds, when the Mohurrum ceases, until the return of another year. The taboot is a slight framework of bamboo, in the shape of a mausoleum, covered and ornamented with coloured paper and tinsel, and is designed to represent the mausoleum built over the remains of the slaughtered Hossein. They vary considerably in size and appearance, according to the taste and ability of those who build them. In some of them are the representation of the tomb of Hasein and Hossein. Before these taboots incense is burned, and various other rites are also performed. The taboots, it is said, are peculiar to India. They, of course, are not mentioned in the Koran, and they are not built either by the inhabitants of Persia or Arabia. Many Mahomedans regard them with strong disapprobation. In Bombay the larger portion of the Mahomedans unite in building the taboots. These are taken out, and, accompanied with music carried in procession through the Bhendy Bazaar, from midnight of the ninth until three o'clock of the morning of the tenth day, and from two to six o'clock on the afternoon of the same day, on their way to the beach on Back Bay, where the greater part of the taboots, after being stripped of whatever was possessed of value, are cast into the sea. The practice of building taboots seems to be losing ground in Bombay, a portion of those who formerly united in this having adopted the views of those opposed to those things. The Indian Mahomedans, who do not unite in building the taboots, are accustomed to go on this occasion to the mosques for five successive evenings, to listen to the account of the death of Hossein. Their demonstrations of grief, however, are not equal to those of the Moguls and Persians, who, while listening to the recital, weep aloud, and smite violently upon their breasts. These are accustomed to meet at the Musjid, a little to the east of the American Mission Chapel, near the Baboola tank, in Mirza Mahomed Ali Khan street. In Bombay there is, strictly speaking, no representation of the battle which was fought previous to the death of Hossein. Some two or three horsemen, bearing flags, enter the large yard adjoining the Emaum Barah, with loud wailings, and are followed by two horses caparisoned, to represent those which were for the use of the fallen Hossein. One person on horseback, with a long sword apparently run through the head, and covered with blood, joins in the wailings. A female infant in deep mourning, sitting at the door of a small mausoleum, which is carried on the shoulders of men, constantly casts ashes or cut straw upon her head, in token of grief. These pass round in a circle, accompanied or followed by a company on foot, who beat upon their breasts, crying, "Hai Hasein, hai Hossein." Sometimes a person represented in a dying state, his body covered with wounds and blood, and darts and daggers run into it, is carried about in the procession. The whole is, indeed, a strange exhibition, fitted to excite in the mind of the enlightened spectator mingled feelings of pity, wonder, and grief. We are not sufficiently informed to give an accurate account of all that occurs on this occasion. It would seem that this festival is now celebrated with less effort and effect than formerly. It is apparently becoming more and more a farce. The grief is doubtless for the most part feigned. The decline of the peculiar zeal of the Mahomedans must necessarily lead them to enter into these with less spirit.

British India.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE ANGLO-INDIAN GOVERNMENT UNDER THE CHARTER.

(From Macgregor's Commercial Tariffs.)

Charges of maladministration have frequently, sometimes justly, been made against the British authorities in India. Let us, however, compare the acts of the monarchical and republican governments of Europe, with the Indian administration, under a simple court of directors, consisting, generally, of men brought up as merchants, or as the civil, military, or naval servants of the Company, and we must honestly acknowledge that the general conduct of the latter appears in a superior character. At one time the Company's fleets were powerful enough to combat all other fleets except those of England, France, Spain, and Holland; and from the date of the Battle of Trafalgar, the navy of England only continued more powerful until the charters of 1813 and 1833 provided that the East India Company should cease to carry on trade.

It is, at the same time, true that circumstances attendant on, and consequent to, the mere existence of the Company, on being once established at all, as the possessors of territory in India, have been accompanied by acts which nothing but self-preservation could well justify, but which we can only condemn, on the ground that territorial occupation, from the first, was not to be defended. But, however virtuous such abnegation might have been, we could not have expected a spirit of self-denial, which would reject territorial possession, on the part of merchant adventurers, and of the courageous and intelligent officers, and of the hardy seamen and soldiers, who sailed to India, since the days of Elizabeth, from motives than the spirit of bold enterprise, the ambition for glorious achievements, and the prospects of gainful commerce.

Nor, we contend, was it to be desired by those who wished for the progress of man in civilisation, that Europeans should have abstained from settling, or acquiring territory and authority in India; and, notwithstanding all that we may justly deprecate in the progress of Europeans in the East, we do believe that the Hindoos, and their Mahomedan oppressors, have, by the presence of British power in India, avoided calamities, from the intestine wars of their princes and chiefs, which would have been infinitely more destructive and cruel than those that have occurred since the first assumption of power, in Hindostan, by the East India Company.

That there has been left undone much good which might have been practical, we admit. But, considering all the operations of the Company in those vast regions, the government, the institutions, civil and military, which that association has established and maintained, their deeds will ever be, historically, the astonishment, and wonder, and admiration of mankind.

We are, upon principle, opposed to all exclusive privileges. But it is impossible not to acknowledge that, without the power of association, and, for a long time, of exclusive privileges, the Anglo-Indian empire never could have been founded, and, certainly, could not have acquired its permanence and its power.

The charter of 1813 abolished most of these exclusive privileges; and the charter of 1833 terminated the commercial functions of the Company—functions which, though for a very long period almost absolutely necessary, were, however, not profitable. By the charter of 1813 the intercourse with India was opened to ships not less than 350 tons, from certain British ports, where sufficient intercourse should be established, to the then ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay. The restrictions as to the tonnage were abolished in 1823. The exclusive trade of the Company to China was continued until 1833. The charter will fully explain the privileges which then ceased; before which period no European could settle in India, nor proceed ten miles into the interior, except with the consent of the Company. The separation of Upper India from Bengal, under the name of the Agra Government, or fourth presidency, was carried into effect contrary to the recommendation of Lord William Bentinck. The Agra Government has since been re-annexed, under the style of the North-West Provinces, to the Presidency of Bengal. See "Revenue Statistics, &c. &c. of the North-West Provinces," (by Colonel Sykes.)

The East India Company, by an extraordinary combination of political, military, and fiscal administration, has maintained native armies, by native revenues, and commanded chiefly by European officers. The ecclesiastical institutions in India, the colleges of the Company at Addiscombe and Haileybury, the institutions, the colleges, and the schools of the Company in nearly all parts of India, have all been established on foundations of the most creditable liberality, tolerance, and intelligence. The details of these will be found instructive and interesting. The Press, also, has, during late years, made meritorious progress.

The following brief view of the executive and administrative authorities under which the Anglo-Indian Empire is possessed, governed, and administered, is necessary, in order that the British power in India, and the means of developing the vast resources of that empire, may be, in a general view, comprehended;—

Whoever enters the two unpretending houses,—the one in an obscure, dirty lane in Westminster, and the other at nearly the extreme end of the City of London,—may well marvel at the acts and deeds of the Anglo-Saxons in Asia. Thousands of private houses, in the kingdom, are far more commodious and superb than the edifice called "the office," where the affairs of India are controlled. And if we enter the dark passages of another "office," where the whole East Indian direction holds its boards and councils, we find the supreme head of that imperial direction sitting, in modest simplicity, within a little, dark, octagon room; and here and there, within the same gloomy edifice, we are, on inquiry, presented to the individual directors, in their respective little, ill-lighted nooks.

Such are the loci within which are decided the disposal or annexation of kingdoms and states; and whether monarchs and princes are to be allowed to rule nominally by suffrage; or be conquered, or allowed to retire from power, on a pension. In one of these offices the directors initiate, and in the other the sovereign, by her commissioners, approves of, those who are appointed the governors-general, who, in India, hold sovereign rule, and whose courts display imperial magnificence and military splendour ; the governors of presidencies, the commander-in-chief of a mighty army, and the generals under him. The Crown appoints the judges of the supreme courts at the presidencies, and the bishops who consecrate the places of Christian worship, and who confirm young Christians in Hindostan, ordain ministers, &c. In these offices, also, the deliberations have taken place which have decided on the augmentation of armics and fleets ; and the adoption or framing of commercial and fiscal systems ; and here, also, have the orders been given which have sent armics to Afghanistan, and the fleets and military forces which have battered the cities, and humbled the power and pride, of Celestial China.

Yet, notwithstanding those great powers, and the still more wonderful success which has attended the exercise of such extensive authority, we have neither heard, nor read of, nor seen individuals in place or power, or as mere merchants, so thoroughly unpretending, and in social life less obtrusive than have been, and are, the East Indian directors in London.

THE COURT OF DIRECTORS.

THIS court and its chairman constitute an executive body ; the members of which are the representatives of the proprietors of the capital stock of the Company—viz. 6,000,000*l.* sterling, divided among about 3600 proprietors.

The administration of Indian affairs will appear involved in all the dangers and misrule of despotism, if we merely consider that the possession and government of India is represented only by a capital of nearly six millions, and that the constituency of that vast empire is vested in 3600 persons, a majority of whom never take any interest in the election of directors. If we reflect also that the constituency, limited as it is, may be still further reduced in numbers by a few rich proprietors, who would aspire to power, purchasing the stock of several small proprietors, in order to constitute eligibility to additional votes in the same rich proprietor ; and that there are usually above 200 proprietors who do not possess their stock long enough to possess votes, and about 400, whose stock being under 500*l.*, have no right to vote at all. The actual number of votes is estimated at little, if above, 2000. Women, possessing sufficient stock, have a right to vote, and the very agents of foreign potentates, though aliens, may purchase stock to any amount they can pay for, and vote within the prescribed limits—the maximum number of votes exercised by any individual being four.

The directors are certainly invested with considerable powers ; and although those have politically and legally been subjected to restriction, through the Board of Control, by the ministers of the Crown, yet we are bound to say that powers so extensive have, probably, never in the history of the world been, on the whole, more judiciously exercised.

The capital stock of the Company, namely, 6,000,000*l.* sterling, was some time ago stated to have then been divided among 3579 proprietors, 53 of whom had four votes ; 54, three ; 347, two ; 1454, one ; and 221 only 500*l.* stock : the latter are not qualified to vote, but may debate on any Indian question ; 396 who held stock under 500*l.* were not qualified to vote or speak, and 220 had not held their stock a sufficiently long time to entitle them to vote. A proprietor possessing not less than 1000*l.* has one vote ; 3000*l.*, two ; 6000*l.*, three ; and of 10,000*l.* and upwards, four votes. The stock must be bona fide the proprietor's for twelve months to enable him to vote, excepting in cases of bequest, marriage, &c. ; this regulation was adopted to prevent collusive transfers of stock. By a recent classification the gentry, bankers, merchants, traders, ship-owners, shopkeepers, &c., held 1836 votes ; women, 43 ; officers in the king's and East India Company's army, 222 ; the clergy, 86 ; officers in the royal navy, 28 ; medical men, 19 ; nobility, 20. The proprietors meet as a court regularly every quarter, and specially when convened to discuss special business. The powers vested in the court of proprietors are—the election of qualified proprietors as representatives to form a court of directors ; to appoint a committee to frame bye-laws for the regulation of the Company ; to control the salaries or pensions exceeding 200*l.* a-year, or gratuities above 600*l.* ; to confer pecuniary rewards on any oriental statesman, warrior, or others, above the latter named sum, subject, however, to the confirmation of the Board of Control ; to demand copies of public documents to be laid before it for discussion and consideration. The chairman of the court of directors is ex-officio chairman of the court of proprietors. Debates are conducted much as in Parliament, and all questions are decided by show of hands, division, or ballot. Elections are decided by ballot.

The court of directors consists of twenty-four gentlemen, qualified according to an act of Parliament, which provides that each must be a natural born or naturalised subject of Great Britain ; possessed of 2000*l.* stock. He cannot be a director of the Bank of England or the South Sea Company ; and he shall be liable to be removed if he should promote his own, or the elevation of any other director, by promises of reward, collusive transfer of stock, or payment of travelling expenses, receive any pecuniary or other remuneration whatever, for any appointment in his gift or patronage as a director. Six directors retire annually by rotation, and are re-eligible after twelve months. The proprietors have every four years the power to reject such directors as they deem unfit for that office. The court of directors elect from their own body a chairman and deputy-chairman annually, and who go out by rotation, meet once a week ; thirteen form a court, and all questions are decided by ballot, if demanded.

The Directors, for their services and responsibilities, have only a salary each of 300*l.* a-year—a most paltry amount ! They have, however, patronage, which they might abuse, and turn to their pecuniary advantage. But the efficiency of their appointments free them from this imputation.

When the number of appointments to the offices of cadets, writers, and assistant surgeons for the year are ascertained, the whole are divided into twenty-eight equal parts, of which two are allotted to the chairman and deputy chairman,—to the president of the Board of Control two, and to each director one.

The Court of Directors are divided into three committees, which sit at the India House ; viz., 1. The Committee of Finance and Home Affairs, eight directors ; 2. Political and Military Affairs of India, seven directors ; 3. Revenue, Judicial, and Legislative, seven directors.

All correspondence and papers received from abroad or from parties in the United Kingdom come, in the first instance, to the secretary's office at the East India House. The despatches are referred by the chairs to the officers whose duty it is to prepare answers. The draft is prepared upon an examination of the documents, and submitted to the chairs; it is then brought before its appropriate committee to be approved or altered, and then laid before the Court of Directors. After it has passed the Court of Directors, the draft is transmitted to the Board of Control, which is empowered to make alterations, but to return it within a limited time, with the reasons assigned for the alterations, if any shall have been made. Previously to the draft being laid before either committee by the chairs, it is usually submitted to the president of the Board of Control, in the shape of what is called a previous communication, between the president and the chairs, in which stage alterations, containing the original views of the president, are made. The draft being returned to the chairman, he lays it, either with or without the alterations, as he may see fit, before the committee. The draft, when approved of by the committee, is submitted to the court, or it may be rejected, altered, or approved. It is then officially sent to the Board of Control, who make such alterations as they judge expedient, and return it to the court, with their reasons for the same. Against these alterations the court may make a representation to the Board of Control, who have frequently modified the alterations. If the board decline to do so, they state the same to the court, and desire the draft may be sent in the form of a despatch out to India, agreeably to the tenor of the act of parliament. In the event of refusal, three judges of the Court of Queen's Bench may finally decide as to the legality of the board's order.

THE SECRET COMMITTEE.—By the act of 1784 and of 1833, the directors are to appoint a Secret Committee, which alone are authorised to forward to India all despatches which, in the opinion of the Board of Control, should be secret, and the subject matter of which can only be divulged by permission of the board. The committee consists of three members of the Court of Directors, chosen by the court generally, who usually select the chairman, deputy chairman, and the senior member, who take the oath of secrecy, as prescribed by the act. Their officers are also sworn to secrecy; and no one is employed in transcribing secret despatches without the permission of the board. The board is empowered by law to issue, through the Secret Committee, orders and instructions on all matters relating to war, peace, or negotiations of treaties with the states of India, and the Secret Committee is bound to transmit such order to India without delay. The Secret Committee has no legal power to remonstrate against such orders, provided they relate to the subjects above named. This committee, in communications upon secret despatches with the Board of Control, has often arranged, by mutual understanding, alterations in previous orders or instructions; but with regard to despatches sent down to the Secret Committee in respect to other despatches, the committee is not empowered to make representations thereon to the Board of Control, whose orders are conclusive. The signatures of the three members of this committee are necessary to insure obedience to the orders conveyed by them to the Company's servants, with whom the Board of Control has no direct correspondence.

The president, two secretaries, and assistant-secretary and clerks of the Board of Control are paid by the East India Company, for which the fixed sum of 20,000*l.* per annum is allotted. The establishment at the India House is maintained also at the expense of the Company, and consists of the chairman, deputy chairman, and other directors, and the officers of the following respective departments and committees into which the Court of Directors is divided, for the despatch of business, viz :—

FIRST—SECRETARY'S DEPARTMENT, with secretary and deputy-secretary, and sub-divided into five branches, viz. 1. Minuting and Corresponding, with an assistant-secretary and six clerks, and a clerk of the Buying Department; two clerks in charge of Ecclesiastical Registrations, &c.; a clerk of the College Department, and a clerk of Correspondence relative to vegetable productions of India. 2. Accounts' branch, with an assistant-secretary and twelve clerks. 3. Pay branch, with an assistant-secretary and five clerks. 4. Audit branch, with an assistant-secretary and six clerks. 5. Marine branch, with an assistant-secretary and three clerks, and a superintendent and assistant of extra clerk.

SECOND—THE EXAMINERS' DEPARTMENT, with chief and assistant-examiner, and two assistants, fifteen clerks, and registrar and assistant-registrar of book office.

THIRD—MILITARY DEPARTMENT, with secretary, and assistant-secretary and eight clerks, inspector and sub-inspector of military stores.

Recently an independent department has been established for the collection of statistical information, consisting of a chief, his assistant, and a clerk.

There is, besides, a standing counsel and solicitor, librarian, who is also Sanscrit professor at Oxford, keeper of the Asiatic museum, geographer, examining physician, inspector-surgeon for invalid seamen and soldiers, examiner of veterinary medicines and instruments for India, chaplain and surgeon of Poplar Hospital, clerk of the works, door-keepers, &c. There is a hospital for invalids at Poplar, a depot for recruits at Warley, in Essex, with a colonel-commandant and second in command, a major, a captain and a paymaster, adjutant captain, lieutenant, and surgeon.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

This department originated with Mr. Pitt, and by act of parliament was styled "The Board of Commissioners for Controlling the Affairs of India;" but, like the Board of Trade, it is no board in its administrative functions; and, therefore, its name is a fiction, and it in reality and absolutely is, in conjunction with the chairman and directors of the East India Company, in Leadenhall-street, a department of state, with very extraordinary powers, and the president is, for all intents and purposes, a secretary of state for the affairs of India, with his parliamentary under-secretaries, assistant-secretaries, and departmental clerks. No commission, we believe, ever sits; although, like the Board of Trade, the other three secretaries of state, with some additional members of the government, are de jure members of this commission, or committee.

The Board of Control is presumed to over-rule the political government of India, and also the financial expenditure of the civil and military departments of the Company. The political decisions are chiefly communicated to India by the president of the Board of Control, through the three secret directors of the Company. A power which may be both justified and denounced; a power, when exercised with sound judgment, which imparts vigour and practicability to the administration of India; but which, in the absence of political wisdom and energy, may involve evil consequences that may be fatal to the whole Anglo-Indian empire. This board, or rather through it her Majesty's ministers, have the appointment of judges, bishops, and the officers of the royal forces in India; but the Court of Directors name the governor-general and governors, but the nominations require to be approved of by her Majesty's government. The court usually chooses the royal commander-in-chief in India, and the royal commanders-in-chief at the different presidencies, to command their own armies.

The Board is divided into six departments, viz., Accounts, Revenue, Judicial, Military, Secret and Political, and Foreign and Public.

1. The Accountant's Department.—To examine the accounts of the finances at home and abroad; control the correspondence between the Court of Directors and the Indian governments, in the departments of finance, and mints, and coinage; also occasional correspondence in most of the other departments of the Company's affairs requiring calculation, or bearing a financial character.

2. The Revenue Department.—Principally revision of despatches proposed to be sent to the several governments of India, reviewing the detailed proceedings of those governments, and of all the subordinate revenue authorities, in connexion with the adjustment of the land assessments, the realisation of the revenue so assessed, and the general operation of the revenue regulations on the condition of the people, and the improvement of the country. Besides the land revenue, the detailed proceedings of the local authorities in the salt, opium, and custom departments, come under periodical revision.

3. The Judicial Department.—Examination of all correspondence between the Court of Directors and the local governments, on subjects connected with the administration of civil and criminal justice and police in the interior of India, such as the constitution of the various courts, the state of business in them, the conduct and proceedings of the judges, and all proposals and suggestions which, from time to time, come under discussion, with the view of applying remedies to acknowledged defects.

The royal courts at the three presidencies are not subject to the authority of the Court of Directors, or of the Board of Control; but any correspondence which takes place in relation to the appointment or retirement of the judges of those courts, or to their proceedings (including papers sent home for submission to the king in council, recommendations of pardon, &c.), passes through this department.

4. The Military Department.—Attention to any alterations which may be made in the allowances, organisation, or numbers of the Indian army at the three presidencies; to the rules and regulations affecting the different branches of the service; to the general staff, comprehending the adjutant and quartermaster-general's department; the commissariat (both army and ordnance); the pay, building, surveying, and clothing departments; and, in fact, to every branch of Indian administration connected with the Company's army. It also embraces so much of the proceedings, with respect to the king's troops, as relate to the charge of their maintenance in India, recruiting them from this country, and the periodical reliefs of regiments.

5. The Secret, Political, and Foreign Department.—Examines all communications from or to the local governments, respecting their relations with the native chiefs or states of India, or with foreign Europeans or Americans. It is divided into the following branches:—

I. The Secret department, containing the correspondence between the Indian governments and the secret committee of the Court of Directors. Under the provisions of the act of Parliament, such confidential communications as, in the opinion of the local governments, require secrecy are addressed by them to the secret committee. Any directions, also to the local governments, relating to war or negotiation, which, in the judgment of the Board of Control, require secrecy, are signed by the secret committee; and the local governments are bound to obey those directions in the same manner as if they were signed by the whole body of directors.

II. The Political department, comprising all correspondence not addressed to the secret committee, or sent through that committee to the local governments, respecting the native chiefs or states with whom those governments are in alliance or communication, or whose affairs are under their political superintendence, or who are in the receipt of pecuniary stipends in lieu of territory.

III. The Foreign department, including all correspondence relating to communications between the local governments and the several foreign Europeans who have settlements in India or the eastern islands; and embracing, in fact, all the proceedings of the local governments in relation to foreign Europeans or Americans resorting to India.

The proceedings of the local governments, with respect to their residents and political agents, and to any other officers and their respective establishments, through whom communications with native states and chiefs, or with foreigners, may be maintained, are also reported in the several departments in which those officers are respectively employed.

6. The Public Department.—The business of this department comprises the examination of all despatches to and from India upon Commercial or Ecclesiastical subjects, and of those which, being of a miscellaneous character, are distinguished by the general appellation of "Public." The commercial and ecclesiastical despatches, which are considered as forming two branches of correspondence, distinct from the "Public," are united with the latter in the same department, only on account of the convenience of that arrangement, with reference to the distribution of business in the establishment of the Board of Control.

The Public correspondence comprises all those despatches which do not belong specifically to any of the branches of correspondence hitherto enumerated. They relate to the education of the natives and of the civil servants; to the appointment of writers, and of the civil service generally, and to their allowances; to the several compassionate funds; to the grant of licenses to reside in India; to the press; to public buildings; to the Indian navy and the marine department; to the affairs of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, Malacca, and St. Helena; and to various miscellaneous subjects. Some of these, being closely connected with the business of other departments, are reported upon in them, although the whole pass through, and are recorded in, the public department.

The Ecclesiastical despatches contain every thing relating to the appointment of chaplains, archdeacons, and bishops; to their allowances; to their conduct; to the building and repair of churches, or other places used for public worship; and to all questions respecting the affairs of the churches of England and Scotland in India, or that of Rome, so far as public provision is made for its maintenance.

Any papers treating of ecclesiastical or miscellaneous topics, though they are not despatches to or from India, are likewise recorded and reported upon in this department.

The expense of the Board of Control to the Company is about 30,000*l.* a-year.

CIVIL SERVICE OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

APPOINTMENTS to the civil service of the East India Company are in the gift of the President of the Board of Control and individual members of the Court of Directors, who have the power of nominating students to the college at Haileybury, where officers in this department of the public service must be educated: persons are eligible whose age is not less than seventeen or more than twenty-one years; provided they have not been dismissed the army or navy, or expelled any place of public instruction.

* It is declared, by a resolution of the Court of Directors, held on the 9th of August, 1809, that "Any person who shall be nominated to the service of the Company in consequence of purchase, or agreement to purchase, or of any corrupt pretence whatever, either direct or indirect, by himself or by any other person, with or without his privy, shall be rejected from the service of the Company, and ordered back to England, if he shall have proceeded to India before a discovery of such a corrupt practice be made; and if such situation shall have been so corruptly procured by himself, or with his privy, he shall be rendered incapable of holding that, or any other situation whatever, in the said service. Provided always, that if a fair disclosure of any corrupt transaction or practice of the nature before described, wherein any director has been concerned, shall be voluntarily made by the party or parties engaged in the same with such director, the appointment thereby procured shall be confirmed by the court." Persons concerned in procuring appointments surreptitiously, or in disposing of, or receiving the same under such circumstances, are liable to a criminal prosecution for a misdemeanour, under the 49th Geo. III. cap. 126.

The parent, guardian, or near relation must then add his certificate as to the truth of the declaration, which must be similar to that ordered to be annexed to the extract from the parish register.

The above certificate and declaration are to be annexed to the petition to be written by the candidate, who must sign a declaration thereon, that he has read these printed instructions. The same declaration is to be signed by the parent, guardian, or near relation of the candidates respectively.

Qualifications for Admission in the College.—Candidates will be interrogated in an open committee as to their character, connexions, and qualifications. The nature of the interrogation may be known on application to the clerk of the college department, at the India House.

Each candidate shall produce testimonials of good moral conduct, from the superior of the institution where educated, or his private instructor, having reference to the two years immediately preceding his presentation for admission.

Each candidate shall be examined in the Four Gospels of the Greek Testament, of which he must possess a competent knowledge, and also be able to render into English some portion of one of the following Greek authors :—Homer, Herodotus, Xenophon, Thucydides, Sophocles, or Euripides ; and of one of the following Latin authors :—Livy, Terence, Cicero, Tacitus, Virgil, or Horace ; and this part of the examination will include questions in ancient history, geography, and philosophy. Each candidate shall also be examined in English history and geography, the common rules of arithmetic, vulgar and decimal fractions, the first four books of Euclid, and the first part of Puley's "Evidences of Christianity." Superior attainments in one of the above departments of literature or science shall, at the discretion of the examiners, be considered to compensate for comparative deficiency in other qualifications.

The examinations are held at the East India House, half-yearly, in the months of January and July.

THE EAST INDIA COLLEGE AT HAILEYBURY has its visitor, the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of London for the time being ; its principal ; its professors, namely, European department—classics, mathematics, history and political economy, law ; Oriental department—Hindi, Hindoostani, and Maharatti ; Arabic and Persian, Sanscrit and Telooگو.

The terms of admission for students are one hundred guineas per annum each ; a moiety to be paid at the commencement of each term, besides the expense of books and stationery. Students to provide themselves with a table-spoon, tea-spoon, knife and silver fork, half a dozen towels, tea-equipage, and a looking-glass ; also, with not less than two pair of sheets, two pillow-cases, and two breakfast cloths. Ten guineas to be paid on leaving college by each student, for the use of the library.

The course of study pursued at this college embraces the Latin and Greek classics, ancient and modern history, political economy, jurisprudence, and the Hindi, Hindoostani, Maharatti, Arabic, Persian, Sanscrit, and Telooگو languages.

All time, not exceeding two years bonâ fide, spent in the college in the regular course of education, after a student has attained the age of seventeen years, is considered as time passed in India, and reckons in his qualification for certain places and emoluments.

A student publicly expelled will not be admitted into the Company's civil or military service in India, or into the Company's Military Seminary.

The college terms are as follows :—the first commences January 19, and ends June 30; and the second commences September 10, and ends December 15, in each year.

The students are to provide themselves with proper academical habits.

Appointment to the Service.—No person can be appointed to the civil service whose age is less than eighteen or more than twenty-three years, nor until he has resided four terms, at least, in the college, and obtained a certificate of having conformed to the statutes and regulations.

On a student's appointment, he will be required to attend at the secretary's office, East India House, to enter into covenant, giving a bond for 1000*l.* jointly with two sureties, for the due fulfilment of the same; namely, that he will faithfully and honestly, to the best of his skill, do and perform all matters and things lawfully committed to his charge; obey orders, keep accounts, not divulge secrets, or be guilty of malpractices, nor leave India without notice, and to subscribe to the civil fund, and the annuity fund. A legal instrument is also to be entered into by some one person (to be approved by the Court of Directors) binding himself to pay the sum of 3000*l.*, as liquidated damages, to the Company, for breach of a covenant to be entered into, that the student's nomination has not been in any way bought, or sold, or exchanged for anything convertible into a pecuniary benefit.

Rank.—The rank of a student's leaving the college is determined by the certificate of the principal, granted with reference to the industry, proficiency, and general good behaviour. Such rank to take effect only in the event of the student's proceeding to India within six months from the date of the said certificate.

A civil servant, on arriving at the presidency to which he is appointed, should immediately report himself in the proper quarter, as his residence in India is calculated from the date of his so doing; and this is most important with respect to furlough regulations, and a variety of other privileges.

Under the royal warrant of precedence, civil servants are divided into six classes, viz. civilians of thirty-five years' standing form the first class, of twenty years' standing the second class, of twelve years' standing the third class, of eight years' standing the fourth class, of four years' standing the fifth class, and under four years' standing the sixth class.

Emoluments.—On first reaching India a civilian is allowed about 30*l.* per month, till, having passed the necessary examination in one or more of the Oriental languages (which must be within twelve months of his arrival), he is attached to the service, the emoluments of which vary from 500*l.* to about 10,000*l.* per annum. The members of council receive 9600*l.* each per annum in Bengal, and 6000*l.* per annum at Madras and Bombay. Civil servants must have three years' actual residence in India to hold a situation of over 1500*l.* per annum, nine years' residence to hold a situation of over 3000*l.* per annum, and twelve years' residence to hold a situation of over 4000*l.* per annum. No civil servant can receive a greater salary than 5220*l.* per annum, unless he be a governor or member of council.

Sick Leave.—A civil servant absent from his station on sick leave is entitled to retain his office for two years, and to the salary of such office, subject to a deduction of one-sixth for the first, and one-fourth for the second year, where it exceeds 2400*l.* per annum. If it does not exceed that sum, the deduction is one-eighth for the first, and one-sixth for the second year; and where it is as low as 600*l.* per annum, no deduction is made for the first, and only one-eighth for the second year. If absent more than two years, a civil servant can only draw, if a senior merchant, 400*l.*, and if below that rank, 300*l.* per annum. Under this regulation no second leave is granted to a servant who has been absent two years, till three years have elapsed from the date of his return. These regulations refer to civil servants proceeding to China, Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, Mauritius, St. Helena, or to any place within the limits of the East India Company's charter.

*Furlough—It is provided by regulation as follows :—That after an actual residence in India of ten years or upwards, a covenanted civil servant shall be entitled to return once to Europe, on leave for three years, and to receive for that period 500*l.* per annum, provided in no case a greater number come home under this regulation, annually, than seventeen from Bengal, nine from Madras and Bombay; and that the preference shall be given first to those servants producing medical certificates, that a visit to Europe is indispensably necessary for the restoration of health, and then to servants in their order of seniority.

That civil servants compelled by illness to return to Europe previous to completion of ten years, shall receive 2000 rupees as passage-money, and for a period not exceeding three years, 250*l.* per annum; but servants having received this shall not, in the event of again returning to Europe, after a residence of ten years or upwards, be entitled to any allowance, except it be occasioned by illness, and then only to the difference between what they have before drawn in the shape of absentee allowance and 500*l.* per annum for three years.

That if the absence of a civil servant returning to Europe upon private affairs (previous to a residence of ten years) shall exceed one year, the excess shall be deducted from the period during which the furlough allowance when it is granted to him would otherwise be enjoyed.

That servants proceeding to the Cape of Good Hope, &c., for health, and from the same cause thence to Europe, shall be entitled to the benefit of the foregoing regulations: and that in all cases, the allowances which are to be paid quarterly in Europe, commence from the date of leaving India, and terminate at the expiration of three years, or the time of arrival in India, whichever may first happen.

Assay masters, and deputy assay masters, compelled by ill-health to return to Europe, receive 19*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* and 11*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* respectively, for three years, when it is to cease.

That any servant in receipt of absentee allowance from a civil fund, shall not be entitled during the same period to the allowances prescribed by these regulations beyond such amount as may bring the total of his annual receipts from both sources to the sum above limited.

Civil servants returning to England must, immediately on arrival, report themselves, with address, by letter to the secretary at the India House, forwarding at the same time the certificates received in India; and they are required to rejoin the service at the expiration of leave, unless an extension has been obtained six months previous to its expiration, which is only granted in cases of sickness, or where a further residence in Europe is indispensably necessary.

That when a civil servant has obtained an extension of leave, he must, at the expiration thereof, obtain permission either to return to duty or reside a further time in Europe; failing in which, he is liable to be struck off.

* The furlough regulations are under revision.

That the Act 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, sec. 70, as it respects civil servants, applies only to cases of sickness or infirmity, and that no civil servant be considered eligible to return to the service after five years' absence under that enactment, who has failed to obtain, agreeably to the foregoing regulations, an extension of leave under the circumstances referred to in the Act.

Abstract of Act 33 Geo. 3, c. 52, s. 70, precluding the Return to their Duty of Civil and Military Servants after an Absence of Five Years.

"That no person who shall have held any civil or military station whatever in India, being under the rank of a member of council, or commander-in-chief, having departed from India by leave, and not returned within the space of five years next after such departure, shall be entitled to any rank or restoration of office, or be capable of again serving in India in the Company's service, unless it shall be proved, to the satisfaction of the Court of Directors, that such absence was occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or unless such person be permitted to return with his rank to India, by a vote or resolution passed by way of ballot, by three parts in four of the proprietors assembled in general court, specially convened for that purpose, whereof eight days' previous notice of the time and purpose of such meeting shall be given in the London Gazette, or unless, in the case of any military officer, it shall be proved, to the satisfaction of the said Court of Directors and the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, that such absence was occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or even inevitable accident."

Retirement.—A civil servant retiring from the service has no claim to a pension, but government guarantees him the benefits of the annuity fund of his presidency, to which he is bound by covenant to subscribe. This fund secures to him, in his turn, a pension of 1000*l.* after twenty-two years' actual residence in India; and if compelled by illness to retire previous to the completion of such term, he is entitled to 500*l.* per annum after fifteen, and 250*l.* per annum after ten years' actual residence. If he retires before the expiration of ten years' residence, he receives a bonus of 500*l.* Assay masters and deputy assay masters who are permitted to retire after twenty years' service, including three years for a furlough, the former upon 300*l.* per annum, the latter upon 19*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* per annum, and if compelled by ill-health, duly certified, to quit India at an earlier period, the retiring allowance after ten years' service for an assay master 200*l.* per annum, and deputy assay master 150*l.* per annum.

MILITARY SERVICE OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

Cavalry, Infantry, Engineers, and Artillery.

APPOINTMENTS to the military service of the East India Company are made by the President of the Board of Control and individual members of the Court of Directors, either "direct" (that is, proceeding to India at once), or through the military seminary at Addiscombe. Neither "direct" appointments nor nominations to Addiscombe can be legally purchased; and where they have been obtained by corrupt means, the parties are liable to penal consequences.

No person who has been dismissed the army or navy, the Royal Military College at Sandhurst, the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich, or who has been obliged to retire from any public institution for immoral or ungentlemanly conduct, will be appointed a cadet, either direct to India or to Addiscombe. Cadets appointed to Bengal must subscribe to the Military Orphan Asylum and Military Widow's Fund; and those to Madras and Bombay to the military fund at their respective presidencies.

Conditions of Admission to the Service.—Every candidate must produce the annexed documents :—

First,—A letter, in the following form, filled up and signed by the person who procures either the cadetship or the nomination to Addiscombe, from the director, for the party to be appointed :—

Gentlemen,—I do hereby declare, upon my honour, that I received (the cadetship * * * or the nomination of a cadet for the military seminary, as the case may be) from [the director's name] gratuitously and expressly for Mr. [the cadet's name], and to whom I have given it gratuitously, being well acquainted with his character, family, and connexions.

I am, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

To the Hon. Court of Directors of the East India Company.

[The person recommending to sign at full length, and to insert his address.]

* * * In case the appointment is a "direct" one, insert here the presidency, and also whether for infantry or cavalry.

Second,—A certificate of birth, in the following form :—

Extract from the Register Book of the Parish of	in the County of Resident Clergyman's or	}
Sessions' Clerk's Signature
Churchwardens' or	}
Elders' Signatures

The above extract must be signed by the resident clergyman, and countersigned by the churchwardens ; or if in Scotland by the sessions' clerk and two elders ; and if there is no register of birth or baptism to be found, the cadet himself must then make a declaration of that circumstance, and of the date of his birth, before a magistrate.

Third,—The annexed certificate from parent, guardian, or next of kin :—

I do hereby certify that the foregoing extract from the registrar of births and baptisms of the parish of _____ in the county of _____ contains the date of the _____ of my _____, who is the bearer of this, and nominated (a cadet on the _____ establishment, or on the military seminary establishment, as the case may be) by _____, Esq. ; and I do further declare, &c., &c., as in form ; adding after the words "above-mentioned," and I do declare I am fully aware that if it should be discovered hereafter that the said appointment has been obtained by purchase, or by any other unlawful means, he will be subject to dismission from the East India Company's service, and rendered ineligible to hold any situation in the Company's service again.

Witness my hand, this _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord

Fourth,—The following certificate to be signed by two practising surgeons :—

I have this day carefully examined Mr. _____, and certify that his eyesight and hearing are perfect ; that he is without deformity, and has the perfect use of all his limbs ; that he has no appearance of any constitutional disposition or tendency to disease ; and that he does not appear to have any mental or bodily defect whatever to disqualify him for military service.

Embarkation.—When a cadet is ready to embark, he must apply to the Clerk at the India House for passing Cadets, &c., for a certificate of his having passed, which certificate will direct him to the secretary's office, where he will obtain the certificate of his appointment. He will then hold himself in readiness to embark, either previous to the ship's departure from Gravesend, or at the last port from whence she shall take her departure from England.

Those cadets who shall fail to apply at the cadet department for their orders within three months from the date of their being passed and sworn before the committee, or shall not actually proceed under such orders, are considered as having forfeited their appointments, unless special circumstances shall justify the court's departure from this regulation.

Cavalry and Infantry.—Candidates for these branches of the service for the most part proceed "direct."

Qualification.—They must be sixteen and under twenty-two years of age, unless they have held a commission in her majesty's service, or in the militia or fencibles when embodied,* and called into actual service, or have been in the company of cadets of the royal artillery, when they are eligible, if not more than twenty-five years of age; provided always that they produce the certificates already noticed, and also their commissions, together with a certificate from the War Office or commanding officer under whom they have served, to the effect that they have joined and done duty with a regiment for the full term of one year and upwards, and they have neither been dismissed, nor have they resigned in consequence of any misconduct.

Rank.—Cadets rank according to the seniority of the directors nominating them, from the date of the sailing of the ship in which they leave Gravesend or any outpost at which they may embark, as it appears from Lloyd's List; and all "direct" cadets appointed or sworn in between the 10th of March and 10th of June, or between 10th of September and 10th of December (or the days which may be fixed on for the public examination of the seminary cadets), rank after the seminary cadets who may pass their examinations, provided the latter sail for their respective destinations within three months after passing examinations.

Engineers and Artillery.—Candidates for the scientific branches of the service must be educated at the military seminary.† Those cadets who are most distinguished are selected for the engineers, according to the vacancies in that branch of the service; and those immediately following in order of succession are promoted to the corps of horse and foot artillery. Those for whom there is no room in the engineers, but who are reported to have attained to a high degree of qualification, receive honorary certificates, and their names are announced to the governments in India, and published in general orders to the army, as meriting particular notice. They have the privilege of choosing the presidency in India in which they shall be stationed. The cadets not appointed to engineers or artillery are, when reported qualified, posted to the infantry, and rank together, according to the rank which they obtained at the seminary.

Cadets may pass through the seminary as rapidly as their qualifications will enable them after a year's residence, provided that they are of the age of sixteen years on or before the day of final examination. Their stay at the institution is limited to four terms.

Rank.—Cadets educated at this institution take rank in the army above all other cadets who are appointed from the commencement of three months previously to the date of the seminary cadets being reported qualified; and the time passed at the institution after sixteen, counts as so much time passed in India, in calculating the period of service for retiring pensions on full pay.

* A commission in the militia regiments of the Channel Islands is not considered a sufficient qualification.

† "Direct" artillery appointments are sometimes made when the exigencies of the service require a large augmentation of officers.

MILITARY SEMINARY AT ADDISCOMBE.

This institution for military students is under the following inspection and training :—

A public examiner and inspector ; a lieutenant-governor ; a chaplain ; surgeon ; staff-captain ; two orderly officers ;* public examiner, Oriental department ; professors and masters of mathematics and classics, fortification and artillery, military drawing, military surveying, landscape drawing. Oriental languages, chemistry and geology, practical mechanics, &c., French, sword exercises ; clerk for passing cadets and assistant-surgeons ; purveyor and steward, &c., &c.

Seminary.—Conditions for Admission.—No candidate can be admitted under fourteen, or above eighteen years.

Independent of the documents already noticed as necessary for admission to the service, each candidate for the seminary must produce a certificate of having had the small-pox, or been vaccinated, and of good conduct, from the master under whom he last studied. He must also deliver the names of two persons residing in London, or its vicinity, who engage to receive him if dismissed the seminary, or be removed from sickness, or any other cause.

Qualifications.—The candidate will be required to write down a sentence from dictation, and if found deficient in hand-writing or orthography, his reception will be deferred for such length of time as the head master shall report necessary. No candidate will be admitted who cannot construe "Caesar's Commentaries," and who does not possess a correct knowledge of all the rules of arithmetic usually taught in schools, especially the rule of three, compound proportion, practice, interest, vulgar and decimal fractions, and the extraction of the square root.

These tests are all that are absolutely requisite, but it will be of advantage to a cadet, if, before admission, he is well acquainted with the following portions of Cape's "Course of Mathematics," in the order in which they are given, viz :—

The remainder of arithmetic, omitting pages 76, 77. The use of logarithms. The first three sections in geometry, and the theory of proportion. First part of algebra, omitting the propositions of the greatest common measure and the least common multiple. Fourth and fifth sections in geometry and geometrical problems. It is very desirable that a cadet, on joining, should be able to draw in pencil, and shade with Indian ink.

Every cadet is considered a probationary pupil for the first six months ; at the end of which period the public examiner will report on the probability of his passing for the artillery or infantry within four terms, and, should this appear improbable, he will be returned to his friends.

Payments, &c.—The parents or guardians of the cadet are required to pay 50*l.* per term for board, lodging, and education, and an entrance subscription of 2*l.* 2*s.* to the public library ; which payments include every charge except for uniform, clothes, books, and pocket-money, as hereafter specified. The payment of the fixed charges for each term is to be made in advance ; and the payment for clothes, pocket-money, and books for the preceding term is to be made previous to the cadet's return to the seminary.

A cadet entering in a term, must pay for the whole term, which will count as one of the four terms of his residence; and no return of any portion of the advance will be made in the event of a cadet's quitting the seminary.

Equipments.—Previous to the cadet's admission, his parents or guardians shall furnish him with the following articles, viz: Nine shirts, three night-shirts, eight pairs of cotton stockings, six pairs of worsted ditto, six towels, six night-caps, eight pocket-handkerchiefs, one pair of white trousers (to be repaired, or, if necessary, to be renewed, at the vacation), two combs and a brush, a tooth-brush, a Bible and Prayer-book, a case of mathematical instruments of an approved pattern, to be seen at Messrs. Troughton and Simms, 136, Fleet-street; Mr. Jones's, 62, Charing-cross; Mr. Gilbert, 148, Fenchurch-street; and at Messrs. Reeves and Sons, 150, Cheapside.

Such articles of uniform dress* as may be considered necessary are provided at the cost of the cadet, and the amount of pocket-money issued to him is also to be defrayed by parents or guardians.†

The following class-books will be provided at the public expense, the mutilation or destruction of which to be chargeable to the cadets, viz:—"Hindustani Dictionary," "Latin ditto," Woodhouse's "Spherical Trigonometry," Inman's "Nautical Astronomy," Inman's "Nautical Tables."

The cadet, on first joining, will be supplied with the following books, at the cost of parents or guardians, viz:—Cape's "Mathematics," Straith's "Treatise on Fortification," Shakspear's "Hindustani Grammar," First Volume "Hindu Selections," Fielding's "Perspective," "French Grammar," "French Dictionary," De la Voye's "French Instructions," "Caesar's Commentaries," Daniell's "Chemical Philosophy." Any other books required by the seminary to be paid for by the cadets.

Prohibition.—The cadet must not join the seminary with a greater sum in his possession than one guinea; and a further supply during the term, on any pretence whatever, may subject him to dismission. Provision being made for furnishing him with every requisite, he cannot really want a supply of money to be placed at his disposal while at the seminary; and if his friends do, notwithstanding, think proper to furnish him with money, they put it in his power to commit irregularities, which must always retard his studies, and may eventually lead to his removal from the institution.

Vacations.—Midsummer commences about the middle of June, and ends July 31; Christmas about the middle of December, and ends January 31.

At the close of every vacation, the cadet must apply at the cadet department, East India House, for an order for re-admission, and all sums then due must be paid up. He is only re-admitted upon returning with the same number of books and instruments which he took home, with his linen put into proper repair, and he himself in a fit state of health to renew his studies.

* Viz. :—Jackets, waistcoats, stocks, furaging caps, trousers, shoes, gloves, together with a proportionate share of the expense of any other periodical supplies, and the repairs of the same. The average cost is 6*l.* 6*s.* per term.

† Viz. :—2*s.* 6*d.* a-week, with 1*s.* additional to sergeants, and 2*s.* 6*d.* additional to corporals.

Extract from the standing regulations of the seminary, Sec. 1., Clause 1.

"No professor, master, or other person in the institution, shall receive from the cadet, or the parents or friends of any cadet, any pecuniary present or consideration, on any pretence whatever."

By a resolution of the Court of Directors, all cadets at the Military Seminary, and all subsequent nominations thereto, are deemed for general service until brought forward for public examination.

CLERICAL APPOINTMENTS.

CHAPLAINS are appointed to the East India Company's service by the chairman and deputy-chairman and individual directors of the Court of Directors, subject to the approval of the Archbishop of Canterbury or the Bishop of London. They must enter into a bond, with covenant for 500*l.* jointly with two sureties, the expenses of which amount to 14*l.* 6*s.*, and are required to subscribe to the Military funds of the presidency to which they are attached. Chaplains are subject to military orders, and form part of the military staff.

Qualifications.—Candidates must not exceed forty years of age, and must show that they have been two years in orders, by producing their letters as deacons and priests. They must also produce the following testimonial, signed by three beneficed clergymen :—

"We, whose names are hereunder written, declare and testify, from our personal knowledge of the life and behaviour of ————, for the space of three years last past, that he hath during that time lived piously, soberly, and honestly, nor hath he at any time (as far as we know or believe) written, taught, or held any thing contrary to the doctrine or discipline of the Church of England.—In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands, the day of ."

The Bishop of London requires a testimonial, in a form differing somewhat from the above, which form may be obtained upon application to his lordship's secretary.

The following certificate, signed by two practising surgeons, is also required :—

"We have this day carefully examined the Rev. , and certify that his eyesight and hearing are perfect; that he has no appearance of any constitutional disposition or tendency to disease; and that he does not appear to have any mental or bodily defect whatever, to disqualify him for the duties of his profession in India."

After obtaining the counter-signature of the Bishop of London to the certificate of appointment, chaplains must again attend at the India House on any subsequent Wednesday, at half-past one o'clock, for the purpose of being sworn, on which occasion they must appear in canonicals. When sworn, the sum of 150*l.* is paid to them to defray the expense of passage and outfit; but they must proceed to their destination within six months; failing which, without leave obtained, the appointment lapses.

Chaplains of the Church of Scotland must be ministers of the Establishment, ordained and inducted by the Presbytery of Edinburgh, and are subject to the spiritual and ecclesiastical jurisdiction in all things of the Presbytery of Edinburgh, whose judgments shall be subject to dissent, protest, and appeal to the provincial synod of Lothian and Tweeddale, and to the general assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Emoluments.—Chaplains are paid per month as follows:—

The chaplains of the Church of Scotland receive the same pay as the other chaplains and assistant chaplains of the presidencies to which they may be attached.

MEDICAL APPOINTMENTS.

Assistant Surgeons.—These officers are appointed by the President of the Board of Control and individual members of the Court of Directors, and such appointments cannot legally be purchased. They are required to subscribe to the military, or medical, and medical retiring fund, at their respective presidencies.

Qualification, Age.—A candidate must not be under twenty-two years; in proof of which he must produce an extract from the register, and also the other certificates and documents.

Qualification in Surgery.—On receiving a nomination, he will be furnished with a letter to the College of Surgeons, and their certificate will be a satisfactory testimonial of qualification; but should he possess a diploma from the College of Surgeons of London, Dublin, or Edinburgh, or the University or Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, either will be deemed sufficient without further examination.

Qualification in Physic.—He must also pass an examination, by the Company's examining physician, in the practice of physic; in which will be included as much anatomy and physiology as is necessary for the treatment of internal diseases, as well as the art of prescribing and compounding medicines. He must produce proof of having attended, at least, two courses of lectures on the practice of physic, and a certificate of having attended diligently the practice of the physicians at some general hospital in London, or in the country, for six months, provided the provincial hospital contain, at least, on an average, one hundred in-patients. No attendance on the practice of a physician at any dispensary will be admitted.

Embarkation.—The assistant-surgeon is required to apply to the cadet office for orders of embarkation, and actually proceed under such orders within three months from the date of being passed and sworn. He must pay 5*l.* for the certificate of appointment.

Rank.—The rank of assistant-surgeons is determined in the same manner as is that of persons proceeding to India as "direct" cadets.

Veterinary Surgeons.—These officers are appointed by the Court of Directors, and receive 90*l.* for a passage to India.

Qualifications.—They must be under twenty years of age, and produce a diploma from the Veterinary College of London, and a certificate from the professor, of general fitness.

REGULATIONS AFFECTING THE MILITARY SERVICE IN INDIA.

Leave of Absence.—Officers having leave on medical certificate to China, Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, Mauritius, St. Helena, or places within the limits of the East India Company's charter, are entitled to draw their pay and allowances.

Officers employed in the civil departments, and drawing a civil allowance, are entitled, in common with officers holding staff situations in the military department, to draw the military pay and allowances of their rank, within the limits of the charter, while absent for two years, on leave under medical certificate, and likewise one-half of the difference between such allowances and the civil or staff pay of the offices to which they stand appointed.

Chaplains proceeding on leave within the limits of the charter for benefit of health, are, in respect to proportion of allowances to be drawn during absence, the conditions and period for which such allowances are to be drawn, and the allowances to be drawn in case of their not returning within two years, subject to the same rules as civil servants proceeding on sick leave.

Furlough.—Officers must be ten years in India before they can be entitled (except in cases of certified sickness, to be absent on furlough. The furlough is granted by the commander-in-chief at each presidency, with the approbation of the respective governments.

Officers who have not served ten years, visiting England on urgent private affairs, may be allowed a furlough for one year without pay.

A chaplain (appointed previous to the 1st of September, 1836,) after seven years' residence, is allowed furlough and 292*l.* per annum. Should he return from sickness, prior to such a period, he is allowed only 191*l.* 12*s.* per annum. If appointed subsequent to that date, after seven years, 191*l.* 12*s.* per annum; and if compelled by ill-health to return prior to that period, only 127*l.* 15*s.* per annum.

No officer on furlough can receive pay for more than two years and a half from the period of his quitting India until he returns, excepting colonels of regiments, and these of the rank of lieutenant-colonel regimentally, when promoted to that of major-general; the latter are then allowed to draw the pay of their brevet rank beyond the above period.

A conductor of stores is allowed furlough pay only in case of sickness.

Officers visiting England on furlough must report their arrival by letter to the secretary at the India House, stating the name of the ship in which they came, and their address, forwarding at the same time the certificates they received in India.

The period of furlough is three years, reckoning from its date to the day of the return of the officer to his presidency; and officers are required to rejoin at the expiration of three years, unless they have obtained an extension of leave six months before the expiration of that period. No furlough is extended except in cases of sickness, certified in the manner hereafter-mentioned; or where a further residence in Europe is indispensably necessary.

All officers soliciting extended leave must, if in London or its vicinity,

NOTE.—The whole of the furlough regulations, both civil and military, being in progress of revision, the text applies only to existing regulations.

appear before the Company's examining physician, who will report on the state of such officer's health. And if resident in the country, must transmit with the letter of application a certificate in the following form, signed by at least two eminent medical practitioners. When the officer is abroad, in any part of Europe, it must have also the attestation of a magistrate, that the parties certifying are "eminent physicians."

"I hereby certify, that I have carefully examined (state the nature of the case, as well as the name of the party), and I declare, upon my honour, that, according to the best of my judgment and belief, ——— is at present unfit for military duty, and that it is absolutely necessary for the recovery of his health, that he should remain at least longer in this country.

Officers having obtained an extension of furlough to a given period must, at its expiration, apply for permission, either to return to duty or to reside a further time in England.

In every case in which an officer has had his furlough extended beyond the prescribed period, on the ground of ill-health, and shall apply to return to duty, he shall produce a certificate from the examining physician that his health is completely re-established.

No officer who has failed to obtain an extension of furlough will be considered eligible to return to the service after five years' absence, under the act of 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, sec 70; but the provisions of this act have been modified as respects some officers, by the 63 Geo. 3, cap. 155, sec. 84, as follows:—"Whereas inconvenience to the military service of the East India Company has been found to arise in certain cases from the provisions of the act 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, sec. 70; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Court of Directors, with the approbation of the said Board of Commissioners, to permit any military officer, being of the rank of a general officer or colonel commanding a regiment, or being a lieutenant-colonel commandant of a regiment, who, having departed from India with such leave as aforesaid, shall not have returned to India within five years from the time of such departure, to have his rank and to be capable of again serving in India, although such absence may not have been occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or any inevitable accident; any thing in said act contained to the contrary notwithstanding."

Every officer upon leaving India will receive a printed copy of the general order on this subject, so that a plea of ignorance cannot be admitted. Officers, therefore, who shall not in due time apply, so as to effect their return within the period of three years from the commencement of furlough, will subject themselves to the loss of the service, unless they shall be permitted by the court to remain a further time in Europe.

Returning to India.—Whenever a detachment of Company's recruits, to the extent of thirty men, are embarked on any one ship, they may be placed in charge of the senior Company's officer, not exceeding the rank of field officer, who shall have obtained permission to return to his duty on the ship, within at least seven days of the period fixed for embarkation: the officer is to proceed with the men from the depot; and, as a remuneration for this service, is to be granted the passage money of his rank, payable to the commander of the ship.

*Retiring from Service.—Officers who have served less than three years in India, and lost their health, are entitled to an allowance from Lord Clive's Fund, if proper objects of that bounty, as follows, viz.:—Second lieutenant, cornet, or ensign, 2s. a-day; and a lieutenant, 2s. 6d. a-day; provided they are not possessed of, or entitled to, real or personal property to the extent, if an ensign, of 750*l*, if a lieutenant, of 1000*l*.

Officers compelled to quit the service by wounds received in action, or by ill-health contracted on duty after three years' service, may retire on the half-pay of their rank, viz.:—Second lieutenant, cornet, or ensign, 3s. a-day; lieutenant, and assistant-surgeon, 4s. a-day.

A subaltern officer or assistant-surgeon having served six years, may retire on 3s. a-day, if his health prevent his continuing in India. A lieutenant having served thirteen, or a second lieutenant, cornet, or ensign, nine years (including a furlough), may retire on the half-pay of his rank, in case his health shall not permit him to serve in India.

Regimental captains, majors, and lieutenant-colonels, who have not served sufficiently long to entitle them to retire on full pay, and whose health renders it impossible to serve in India, may retire on half-pay, viz.:—Captains, 7s. a-day; majors, 9s. 6d. a-day; and lieutenant-colonels, 11s. a-day.

All officers who have actually served twenty-five years, including a furlough, may retire on the full pay of their rank. Officers may also retire on the following pensions, without reference to rank, if they have served for the undermentioned periods, including a furlough, viz.:—After twenty-three years, 191*l*, 12s. 6d. per annum; after twenty-seven years, 292*l*. per annum; after thirty-one years, 365*l*. per annum; after thirty-five years 460*l* 6s. per annum.

Surgeons who have served as follows, including a furlough, may retire on the annexed annual pensions, viz.:—After twenty years, 191*l*.; after twenty-four years, 250*l*.; after twenty-eight years, 300*l*.; after thirty-two years, 365*l*.; after thirty-five years, 500*l*.; after thirty-eight years, 700*l*.

When officers on furlough retire upon the pay or half-pay of their rank, they are only entitled to claim the benefit of the rank held by them at the expiration of one year from the date of landing in the United Kingdom.

A veterinary surgeon may retire after the following service, including a furlough, viz.:—After twenty years, 7s.; after thirteen years, 5s. 6d.; and, after six years 3s. a-day. In the two last cases, provided his health shall not permit him to continue in India.

A chaplain (appointed previous to the 1st of September, 1836) may retire after eighteen years' service, including furlough, on 365*l* per annum; after ten years, if compelled by ill-health, on 200*l*. 15s. per annum; after seven years, on 173*l*. 7s. 6d. per annum. If appointed subsequently to that date, according to the following scale, viz.:—After an actual residence in India of fifteen years, on 292*l*. per annum; after ten years, if compelled by ill-health, on 173*l*. 7s. 6d. per annum; after seven years, on 127*l*. 15s. per annum.

* In these regulations, where a prescribed time is mentioned, "including a furlough," it does not mean that the party must have absolutely served the entire time, whether he has taken his furlough or not. Thus an officer who is entitled to retire on full pay after an actual service of twenty-five years "including a furlough," should he not have taken such furlough, is entitled to the same privilege after an actual service of twenty-two years.

Officers retiring from the service will be considered to have retired from the date of their application for leave to retire; or from the expiration of two years and a half from their quitting India, whichever shall happen first.

Lord Clive's Fund.—Every petitioning officer and soldier must produce a certificate from his commanding officer of being incapable of further service in India, together with an approbation by the governor and council of the presidency where he shall have served.

Every commissioned officer must previously make oath that he is not possessed of, or entitled to, property, if a colonel, to the value of 4000*l.*; a lieutenant-colonel, 3000*l.*; a major, 2500*l.*; a captain, 2000*l.*; a lieutenant, 1000*l.*; an ensign, 750*l.* Officers' widows must produce proof, on affidavit, that their husbands did not die possessed of property as above. Petitioners residing in England may be admitted, if the court shall adjudge them to be proper objects.

All commissioned, staff, or warrant-officers, to receive as follows, viz. :—

Serjeants of artillery to have ninepence, and those that have lost a limb, one shilling per day. Gunners of the artillery, sixpence, and those that have lost a limb, ninepence per day. All other non-commissioned officers and bombardiers to have fourpence three farthings per day.

Officers and privates to be entitled from the period of their landing in England.

Pensioners neglecting to claim the pension for three half-years will be considered as dead, and no arrears for a larger period than two years back from the date of application for admission or re-admission will be allowed, either to claimants or to pensioners after admission.

MARINE.

INDIAN NAVY.—Appointments to the marine service of the East India Company are made by the president of the Board of Control and the Court of Directors.

Nominees must not be under fifteen, or above eighteen years of age, unless they shall have served on board a steam-vessel, or under an engineer in a factory or foundry, from the completion of their eighteenth year up to the time of being nominated; and in such case they must not exceed nineteen years.

No person who has been dismissed the army or navy, or obliged to quit school for immoral conduct, will be appointed.

Nominees must produce such certificates of having undergone an examination in arithmetic and the elementary branches of nautical education, as will satisfy the Court of Directors that they are qualified to enter upon the service; also one from a respectable engineer, that they have acquired such a knowledge of marine engineering as to afford promise of efficient service on board a steam-vessel; and a certificate from two practising surgeons, that they have no mental or bodily defect that may disqualify them for the service.

Volunteers are required to proceed to India within three months after appointment, or their appointment will be forfeited. They must subscribe to the Indian Navy Fund.

Rank is determined as in the case of "direct" cadets.

Leave of Absence.—A certain proportion of the officers (to be determined by Government) are allowed furlough for three years, with the pay only of their rank; but no officer under the rank of captain, who has not actually served ten years, can be allowed furlough, unless in cases of ill-health.

The regulations for drawing pay on furlough and retirement by the officers are, as far as circumstances will admit, the same as those for the military officers.

Retirement.—Every officer who has actually served twenty-two years or upwards in India, is permitted to retire from the service with the following pay, viz.:—A captain 360*l.*; commander, 290*l.*; lieutenant, 190*l.*; purser, 190*l.* Every officer retiring, from ill-health, after ten years' service, and before he has completed that of twenty-two years, is granted the following retiring allowance, viz.:—A captain, 200*l.*; commander 170*l.*; lieutenant, 125*l.*; purser, 125*l.*

ADMINISTRATION OF THE GENERAL AND RESIDENTIAL GOVERNMENTS IN INDIA.

BRITISH INDIA is divided into the presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay. The governor at each presidency is assisted and partly controlled by a council of two of the Company's senior civil servants, and usually the commander-in-chief of the army. The supreme government is vested in the Governor-General of India, and the same council as that for Bengal. The Governor-general, under certain limits, is invested with extraordinary power, and exercises some of the most important rights of sovereignty, such as declaring war, making peace, framing treaties, to a certain extent forgiving criminals, and enacting laws.

The governor-general's council consists of five councillors, the first three ordinary councillors are to be chosen from those who have been, or are, servants of the Company, and to be appointed by the directors; the fourth to be appointed by the directors also, subject to the approbation of the king, but not from among East India Company's servants, and with power to sit and vote in council only at meetings for making laws and regulations. The commander-in-chief is not necessarily a member, but if appointed is extraordinary, and has precedence after the governor-general.

On all questions of state policy, the governor-general, independent of his council, possesses extraordinary powers, and administers accordingly.

If the council are dissentient, the members record their objections, which are submitted to the governor-general; and if he should still persist in his original opinion, the discussion is adjourned for forty-eight hours, when the governor-general may proceed to execute his measures: first assigning his reasons for dissenting from the council. The whole of the documents relative to the difference between the governor-general and the council, are then transmitted to the Court of Directors and Board of Control; and the court have the power, should they deem fit, of appointing new members of council to succeed the dissentient ones, or of recalling the governor-general.

The governor-general, when assembling the council of India, at a subordinate presidency, sits as president, the governor of such presidency being at such council an extraordinary member. The governors of Madras and Bombay are independent of local control, but for the sake of unity in foreign transactions, on matters of general and internal policy, or in expending money, they are subject to the authority of the governor-general.

Regulations for the good government of the British possessions in India are passed by the governor-general in council; they immediately become effective, but are transmitted home, and subject to the revision of the Court of Directors and Board of Control; heretofore ordinances for the government of the presidency capitals were not valid until published for fourteen days; and then when registered by the supreme (Royal) court, put in force, subject to a further ordeal at home: but these checks excepted, and which may be said to have been, to a great extent, removed by the new charter, the governor-general in council can make laws for the regulation of even her Majesty's supreme courts. Under this supreme and legislative government, the executive is generally administered in Bengal by the respective departments of Revenue; Customs, salt and opium; Trade; Military; and Medical;—at Madras three: Revenue; Military; Medical; and at Bombay by one, viz.: the Secretariat Establishment, with its subdivisions into Political and Secret Department; Military, Marine, and Steam Department; Territorial and Finance Department; Judicial Department; General and Ecclesiastical Department; Persian Department, &c. &c. There are at Bombay, Customs and Opium, and Mint Sections, with revenue commissioners, collectors, &c., under the Finance Department, and also the Police, and some other Subsidiary Departments. These boards, or departments, make reports to government; they also receive from their subordinates suggestions, either for their own information or for transmission to the governor-general in council; so that the local knowledge of the interior officers is brought under the knowledge of the supreme or presidential governments. The first duty of the government in India is that of recording every transaction, whether as chief departments or as boards; regular habits of business are therefore systematised with the checks of supervision. All minutes of proceedings are laid before the government monthly, and then transmitted to London. The objection to this is delay; but the Court of Directors, in their letter to the Board of Control, 27th of August, 1829, observes that the government of India may in one word be described as a Government of Checks. The court thus judiciously remark:—

“Now, whatever may be the advantage of checks, it must always be purchased at the expense of delay, and the amount of delay will generally be in proportion to the number and efficiency of checks. The correspondence between the Court of Directors and the governments of India, is conducted with a comprehensiveness and in a detail quite unexampled; every, the minutest, proceedings of the local governments, including the whole correspondence respecting it which passes between them and their subordinate functionaries, is placed on record, and complete copies of the Indian records are sent annually to England for the use of the home authorities. The despatches from India are indexes to those records, or what a table of contents is to a book, not merely communicating on matters of high interest, or soliciting instructions on important measures in contemplation, but containing summary narratives of all the proceedings of the respective governments, with particular references to the correspondence and consultations thereon, whether in the political, revenue, judicial, military, financial, ecclesiastical, or miscellaneous departments. In the ordinary course of Indian administration much must always be left to the discretion of local governments; and unless upon questions of general policy and personal cases, it rarely occurs that instructions from hence can reach India before the time for acting upon them is gone by. This is a necessary consequence of the great distance between the two countries, the rapid succession of events in India, which are seldom long foreseen, even by those who are on the spot, and the importance of the ruling authorities there acting with promptitude and decision, and adopting their measures, on their own responsibility, to the varying exigencies of the hour. These circumstances unavoidably regulate, but do not exclude, the controlling authority of the Court of Directors. Without defeating the intentions of Parliament, they point out the best and indeed the only mode in which these intentions can be practically fulfilled. Although, with the exceptions above adverted to, a specific line of conduct cannot often be prescribed to the Indian governments, yet it seems to indicate any other rather than a state of irresponsibility, that the proceedings of those governments are reported with fidelity, examined with care, and commented upon with freedom, by the home authorities; nor can the judgments passed by the court be deemed useless whilst, though they have immediate reference to past transactions they serve ultimately as rules for the future guidance of their servants abroad. The knowledge, on the part of the local governments, that their proceedings will always undergo this revision, operates as a salutary check upon its conduct in India, and the practice of replying to letters from thence paragraph by paragraph is a security against habitual remissness or accidental oversight on the part of the court, or their servants at home. From a perusal of the Indian records, the court also obtain an insight into the conduct and qualifications of their servants, which enables them to judge of their respective merits, and to make a proper selection of members of council. The duties of territorial secretary, in one branch, correspond in a great measure with those of the chancellor of the exchequer in this country; he manages the whole financial business of the government, in concert with the accountant-general; but the secretary is the chief officer of the government in that department; moreover, he has the management of the territorial revenue, and the revenue derived from salt and opium, and he conducts the correspondence of government with the three boards of revenue in the upper, lower, and central provinces respectively.

"In relation to the board of revenue, he is merely the ministerial officer of the government; he is not a responsible officer, and has no direct power over the board of revenue.

"If any increase of charge were proposed by any of the board of revenue, or by any person acting under them, that proposal for increase is submitted to the territorial secretary before it is acquiesced in and sanctioned by government—he is the person always addressed. The boards of revenue have the power of writing directly to the governor-general in council; but that is a mere matter of form, for such letter goes equally through the office of the territorial secretary, and is submitted by him to the governor-general in council.

"The territorial secretary offers his opinion upon the admissibility of any new charge proposed. He has no right or power to do so, but he is generally called upon to do so. The secretaries are in the habit of giving in papers called memoranda. As the governor-general, or members of council, lay minutes before the council board, so the secretaries, whenever they have any suggestion to make, submit what are called memoranda.

"One of the members of the council is nominally President of the Board of Revenue; he performs no duties.

"The duties of the territorial and judicial departments as regard the judicial department are quite distinct departments. There are two secretaries; the judicial secretary is quite independent of the territorial; he conducts the correspondence of the government with the Sadder Dewanny and Nizamut Adawlut; they are the chief criminal and civil courts.

"The police is under his direction, at least all the correspondence of government on the subject of the police is conducted by him. Like the territorial secretary, he is not a substantive officer, only a ministerial functionary of the government. He writes always in the name of the government; his letters always begin with words to this effect—"I am directed by the governor-general in council to inform you;" and this holds good with regard to all other secretaries.

"The business of a collector in the lower provinces is the receipt of revenue; the conduct of public sales, in the event of any defalcation on the part of any landed proprietor who is responsible for any portion of the revenue.

"There being a permanent settlement of the land revenue in those provinces, he has not much to do directly with the collection of the revenue; but he has a great number of other duties, as the management of wards' estates (minors' estates); for the Board of Revenue is also a court of wards.

"He exercises judicial functions in what are called summary suits, arising from disputes between landlord and tenant, between zemindar and ryot. That is, in disputes connected with the administration of the revenue.

"With reference to the extent in which he decides suits.—The suits are summary suits; they are not conducted with the formality of regular suits; they are instituted originally in the courts of law, and are referred by the judge to the collector for decision; they are of a particular description; they are not conducted with the formality of regular law suits; there is a particular process laid down by the regulations for them.

"It is indirectly in the nature of a reference; it is a claim of the zemindar on the ryot for rent, which the ryot disputes or denies; and it is referred to the collector, as a summary suit, under particular regulations.

"All the instances in which he exercises judicial power are referred to him by the court, as far as regards the summary suits referred to; but there are also investigations which partake largely of judicial inquiries, which he conducts independently of the courts; as, for instance, where landholders in coparceny have petitioned to have their estates divided, and to become separately responsible to government. Such divisions are called butwarahs.

"The revenue collected remains in the custody of a native treasurer, who gives heavy security, and who is to a great degree independent of the collector. Security is given to the government through the collector; but the board of revenue see that it is sufficient, and the collector is also responsible."

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN INDIA.

THE civil law is administered according to the religious code of the party, whether Hindoo or Mahomedan. A commission has been issued to examine into the variety of the civil laws existing in the various provinces, and to endeavour to codify them into a general system. The criminal law in India is the Mahomedan code, in which mutilations of the limbs and flagellations to death are not unfrequently ordained; these are commuted by us for imprisonment, &c., and it will be seen in the section on gaols how crime has been diminished in India. There are in the Company's courts three grades of European judges—the district, the provincial, and the judges of the Sudder Court, (there are also magistrates, who exercise civil jurisdiction under special appointments, and the registrars try, and decide causes referred to them by the judge of the district). The native judges are divided in two classes, 1st Munsiffs, of whom there are several stationed in the interior of every district; and 2ndly, Sudder Aumeems, established at the same station with the European judge. Native judges of any sect can try causes as far as 1000 rupees, and the amount may be increased at the recommendation of the European judge to 5000 rupees; this permission has been granted in very many cases, and the decisions have been extremely satisfactory. An appeal lies from the district native judges to the district European judge, from the latter to the high court of Sudder Adawlut at Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, and from thence to the queen in council in England, but not for a less sum than 10,000 rupees, or 1000*l.* sterling.

In the Bengal presidency, for instance, there is first a high court of appeal termed the “Sudder Dewanny and Nizamut Adawlut,” or chief civil and criminal court. The functions of this court are cognizance of civil, criminal, and police matters; the remission or mitigation of punishment when the sentence of the law officers is unduly severe, co-revision previous to the execution of any sentence of death, transportation, or perpetual imprisonment, arbitration where the provincial judges differ from their law officers; revisions of the proceedings of any of the courts, with power to suspend provincial judges; it may direct suits for property exceeding 5000*l.* in value, to be originally tried before it; it may admit second or special appeals from the inferior courts, and its construction of the government regulations is final. The chief justice has 6000*l.* a year, and the three puisne judges 5000*l.* each.

The second degree of courts are the provincial courts of appeal, with a chief and puisne judge to each. They have no criminal jurisdiction; try suits exceeding 5000 rupees in value, if the plaintiff desire their decision (he may prefer it before the Zillah judge, if the value do not exceed 10,000 rupees); appeals lie from the Zillah courts, and are final unless in cases of special appeal.

For the Bengal presidency there are numerous commissioners of circuit, who combine revenue with judicial functions. They hold sessions of goal delivery at least twice in each year at the different Zillah and city stations. The direction and control of the magistrates, revenue officers, and police are vested in them. The salary of each commissioner is, or was, 4000*l.* a-year.

The Zillah Courts of Bengal have a judge, magistrate, and registrar; in some less extensive, the duties of judge and magistrate are conjoined, or the duties of magistrate and registrar.

These courts have cognizance of affrays, thefts, burglaries, &c., when not of an aggravated character, and power to the extent of two years' imprisonment; commit persons charged with heinous offences for trial before the commissioners of circuit; try original suits to the value of about 20,000 rupees; decide appeals from registrars (i. e. causes not exceeding 500 rupees in value), Sudder Aumeems (native judges) and Moonsiffs; and by a regulation of 1832 (for the expedition of criminal justice), three Zillah judges may be invested with power by the governor-general to hold sessions and gaol delivery.

These courts have authority over the police, and the judges are enjoined to visit the gaols at least once a week.

Another and extensive set of Zillah and city courts have been established, with native judges of every class, caste, or persuasion, found qualified for the duties enjoined them, to whom liberal salaries have been granted; and by a more recent regulation, native assessors sit on the bench with the European judges.

The courts of judicature similar to the foregoing in the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, and in the North-West Provinces, are modified by local usages; in some parts there are punchayets (native juries) of arbitration and of civil and criminal procedure; in others, native assessors in civil and criminal matters.

In the administration of civil justice the objects of the East India government have been that it should be pure in its source, speedy in execution, and inexpensive in practice; in criminal justice the objects have been to prevent crime, and to promote the reformation of the criminal.

Laws and Regulations.—In pursuance of the direction, and by virtue of the powers given by the 47th section of the Act of the 3rd and 4th William IV., chap 85, the Court of Directors of the East India Company, with the approbation of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India, ordain as follow:—

1. "Copies of all laws and regulations shall be communicated to the several functionaries appointed to carry them into effect, and shall be preserved in all courts of justice, and there be open to the inspection of all persons.

2. "All laws and regulations shall be translated into the several native languages most commonly spoken, and printed and sold at a low price.

3. "The governments of the several presidencies will make such a distribution of copies of the laws and regulations so to be sold as may bring them most conveniently within the reach of all persons, and will notify in a public manner where such copies may be procured.

4. "The governments will likewise, on the passing of any law and regulation, publish the title of it, and an abstract of its contents, in the gazettes and such other newspapers as are most generally circulated.

Authentication of Laws and Regulations.—1. "The original copy of all laws and regulations shall be signed by the members of the legislative council by whom they shall be passed, and such copy shall be preserved in the archives of the government of India.

2. "Such copies only of the several laws and regulations hereafter passed as shall be printed at the government press shall be admitted as evidence in courts of justice. Such copies so printed shall bear in the title-page fac-similes of the signatures of the members of council by whom the several laws and regulations may have been respectively passed."

There is a supreme court at each presidency, with a chief and two puisne judges at Calcutta, and a chief and one puisne judge at each of the other presidencies. A master in equity, registrar, and attorneys and barristers admitted to practise, at the discretion of the judges. At Calcutta there is a Hindoo and a Mahomedan law officer attached to the supreme court. The jurisdiction of this court extends over the presidency, with certain exceptions, and the courts claim jurisdiction in certain cases beyond the presidency; such claims have, however, been viewed with jealousy. The salaries of the judges of the supreme court are, Bengal, chief, 8000*l.*; Puisne, 6000*l.*; Madras, chief, 60,000 rupees; Puisne, 50,000 rupees; Bombay, chief, 60,000 rupees; puisne, 50,000 rupees. Trial by jury in criminal matters, not in civil; natives are eligible as petty and grand jurors; proceedings are in English, with the aid of interpreters, and in general the civil laws of England are applied.

There are at Calcutta and Bombay courts of requests, for the recovery of small debts, the recorders of which are Europeans.

The police in Bengal are divided into stations with a native officer, native registrar, petty officer, and from twenty to thirty policemen well armed. In each district there are numerous stations, making altogether in lower Bengal above 500, and in the upper, or western provinces, above 400. Every village has also its own watchman, armed and paid by the village, and as there are above 160,000 villages in lower Bengal, there is, therefore, a force of about 160,000 men added to the government establishment. In some parts of Central India, each village has a petty officer, whose duty it is to apprehend thieves, or when he traces them to a village, to intrust the arrest to the police of that village.

The head officer at each station receives criminal charges, holds inquests, forwards accused persons with their prosecutors and witnesses to the Zillah magistrate, uses every exertion for the apprehension of criminals and the preservation of the peace in his district, and regularly reports all proceedings to the European magistrate from whom he receives orders. The village police, with the village corporation officers, that is, the barber, schoolmaster, accountant, waterman, measurer, &c., land agents, zemindars, &c., are all required to give immediate information of crime committed within their municipalities, and to aid in the apprehension of offenders. There is a mounted police and a river police, both commanded by native officers.

The police officers are furnished with brief, clear instructions. The best of the native laws have been retained, and a practical and generally equitable system constitutes the police law and practice. The general system of police in India is thus detailed in the evidence before parliament :—

“The lowest police officer is the village watcher. There are several in the village who perform the lower offices. They are under the control of the head of the village; the head of the village is under the control of the Tehsildar, who is a native collector of revenue; the Tehsildar is under the magistrate, who is the collector. The village watchers are remunerated by a small quantity of grain from the produce of the village, and from certain fees from the inhabitants; and the head of the village has also similar allowances, to a greater extent. The Tehsildar is a stipendiary officer of the government, employed in the collection of the revenue. There are police officers appointed to towns, called Aumeens of police, who have a jurisdiction also beyond those towns; and there are officers called Cutwals, a kind of high constables, resident chiefly in market towns. There are, in some districts, paid police; and there were formerly various classes of native peons, under different denominations, many of whom have of late years been dismissed as unnecessary."

Bengal Civil Service Annuity Fund.—Under the regulations of this fund, to which the subscribers must contribute four per cent. of salary, and every other public emolument, except compensation for travelling expenses ; nine members of the civil service, who have not been dismissed, but have served twenty-five, and actually resided twenty-two years in India, are entitled to retire upon an annuity of 1000*l.* per annum, payable to the date of decease, provided they actually resign the service, and that in each case the contribution of the party amount to one-half the value of such annuity on his life, or that he pays over to the institution, when retiring, a sum equal to the deficiency. If the deficiency be not paid, the individual is only entitled to an annuity diminished in proportion. The senior members on the gradation list have, in each year, the option of accepting or refusing the retirement ; and when a person who has served the requisite period resigns the service before the option of an annuity devolves upon him, he is still entitled to the same when his turn has arrived.

Civil servants who have not completed the full period of twenty-two years' residence, and twenty-five years' service in India, but are compelled to retire from illness, are entitled, out of the unclaimed annuities of any year, and before any other appropriation is made, to receive as follows, viz :—If they have not completed ten years' residence, a donation of 500*l.* If they have completed a residence of ten, but not more than fifteen years, an annuity of 250*l.* per annum, on payment, subscriptions included, of a sum amounting to one-half the value thereof. If they have completed fifteen years, an annuity of 500*l.* per annum, on the same terms.

Bengal Civil Fund.—This fund provides for the widows and children of members who die without leaving sufficient provision for their families, provided they contribute as follows, viz :—If salary and other public allowances do not exceed 1000 Company's rupees per mensem, 10 Company's rupees per mensem ; if exceeding 1000 Company's rupees, and not above 2000 Company's rupees, 20 Company's rupees ; if exceeding 2000 Company's rupees, and not above 3000 Company's rupees, 30 Company's rupees ; if exceeding 3000 Company's rupees, and not above 4000 Company's rupees, 40 Company's rupees ; if exceeding 4000 Company's rupees, 60 Company's rupees, per mensem. When the annual income of the fund is less than its expenditure, the deficiency is made up, by assessing all subscribers in proportion to their allowances.

If a subscriber who has served twenty-two years in India retires from the service, or having served ten years in India retires from ill-health, and has contributed by previous payments, including interest, or by a further donation, the sum of 25,000 Company's rupees, he entitles his family to the benefits of the institution ; but the family of a member who has been dismissed the service has no interest in the fund. When a subscriber discontinues his subscription for one entire year, he is considered to have withdrawn altogether. No family can receive more from this fund than 600*l.* per annum.

Widows.—A widow whose income, however derived, does not exceed 100*l.* per annum, is entitled to as much as will make her income 400*l.* per annum. When her income, pension included, exceeds 400*l.* per annum, to a pension reduced as much as her income exceeds the latter sum; and when the income, exclusive of pension, exceeds 400*l.* per annum, the pension ceases altogether. For every ten pounds sterling per annum allowed in England, the recipients of this fund are entitled to be paid ten rupees per mensem while resident in India. If a widow marries, her pension ceases during coverture, but may be renewed on again becoming a widow, subject to the preceding conditions.

Children.—Children are entitled as follows, viz.:—Till five years of age, to an annual payment of 30*l.*; from five to eight, of 60*l.*; from eight to eleven, of 80*l.*; and after eleven, of 100. While the child remains in India, 30 Company's rupees per mensem are considered equal to 30*l.* per annum; 40 Company's rupees to 60*l.*; 50 Company's rupees to 80*l.*; and 60 Company's rupees to 100*l.* The payments to female children cease on marriage, and to males on attaining the age of twenty-one years, or being settled in any profession or employment, whichever first happens; or sooner, should they, whether male or female, obtain, by bequest or otherwise, sufficient to afford the payments already specified; but where the amount is insufficient for such purpose, the fund is to provide the deficiency.

OF THE

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF INDIA,

PASSED IN THE YEAR 1850-51.

Act No. XLIII. of 1850.

An Act for the Regulation of Registered Joint Stock Companies.

[1st January, 1851.]

For the regulation of Joint Stock Companies registered under this Act, it is enacted as follows :

I. Within one week before or after the first day of January and first day of July, in every year after the registry of the said Company, a memorial shall be filed in the Court in which such Company is registered, setting forth, in alphabetical order, the names of all the partners, with their several additions, places of abode, and the number of shares belonging to each, and the names of the Directors of the Company, and also the names of the servants of the Company to be deemed the Registered Officers, within the Presidency in which such Court is situated ; and, as often as a change in the Direction or of any Registered Officers shall take place by death, resignation, disqualification, or otherwise, a memorial of such change shall be forthwith filed in the Supreme Court.

XI. When any share is held by two or more persons, the name, addition, and place of abode of every such person shall be separately entered in every such memorial, and each of such persons shall be considered as jointly and separately liable for the engagements of the Company on account of such share ; unless when such share belongs to any other Registered Company, in which case the name of such Company shall be entered in the memorial instead of the names of the partners thereof.

XII. The several memorials shall be signed by two or more of the Directors of the Company, and verified by affidavit of one of them before the Master of the Supreme Court or a Commissioner by the said Court appointed.

XIII. An office copy of any such registered deed, or copy thereof filed as aforesaid, or memorial or of any part thereof, issued under the seal of the Court, shall be received in evidence before all Courts, as proof of the contents thereof, and no proof shall be required that the persons by whom any such memorial purports to be verified were Directors of the Company.

XIX. No transfer shall be deemed complete, nor shall any Shareholder be discharged from any liability by the transfer of any share, until the memorial of such transfer shall have been filed as aforesaid, or until the purchaser has been substituted as a partner instead of the seller in one of the general half-yearly memorials, in respect of the share or shares so transferred; and no person shall be liable as a Shareholder, by reason merely of having accepted such transfer, until such memorial of the transfer shall be filed, or until he is entered as a partner in one of the general half yearly memorials.

XX. The Supreme Court in which any Company is registered may, on petition and on notice being given to the Directors, and to every other person to whom it shall appear to the Court that notice ought to be given, order any memorial filed under this Act to be corrected, in case of any material error of omission or otherwise, either in the lists of Shareholders or any other respect whatever.

XXI. The Directors may close the Register of Transfers for a time, not exceeding fourteen days before the payment of any dividend, and may fix a day for closing the same, of which seven days' notice shall be given in the Government Gazette.

XXII. The Company shall not be bound to see to the execution of any trust, whether express, implied, or constructive, to which any share is subject; and the receipt of the person in whose name any share stands in the books of the Company, or in the case of a minor, idiot, or lunatic, the receipt of the guardian or committee, or where the share stands in more than one name, the receipt of the person, whose name stands first, shall be a sufficient discharge to the Company for any dividend or other sum of money payable on account of such share, whether or not the Company had notice of any such trust; and the Company shall not be bound to see to the application of any money paid on such receipt.

XXIII. Every such Registered Company shall sue and be sued by the registered name of the Company, as if it were an incorporated Company, and in no other manner; and service of any writ, order, or other process or notice on a Registered Officer of the said company, at one of their usual places of business, or, if he cannot be found, in such manner as the supreme Court in which such Company is registered shall order and direct, shall be good service on such Company.

XXIV. In any indictment or information for any theft or embezzlement of the monies or goods of any such Registered Company, or for any other offence committed against them or their property, or with intent to defraud or injure them, and in any proceeding in which it may be necessary to name them, they may be described by the registered name of the Company.

XXV. In any suit brought or proceeded with in the name of any such Registered Company, the plaintiffs shall be liable to be nonsuited, unless it is proved on their part, that the suit is brought or proceeded with by direction of one or more of the partners appointed at a general meeting to be Directors of the Company, or by the direction of some person or persons having authority from the Directors to bring suits on behalf of the Company; and such proof may be given either by filing a warrant to sue, signed by such Director or person, and supported by affidavit, or in such other manner as shall be consistent with the practice of the Court.

XXVI. No such suit, indictment, information, or other proceeding shall abate or be prejudiced by any change of the persons constituting the partnership, or of the Directors, or of the person having such authority.

XXVII. No suit by or against the Company shall be in any wise effected by the defendant or plaintiff therein being or having been a Shareholder of the Company: but any such Shareholder, either alone or jointly with any other person or persons as against the Company, or the Company as against any such Shareholder, either alone or jointly with any other person or persons, shall have the same right of action, remedy, and execution, in respect of any claim whatever, as the Shareholder or Company would have had, if the Shareholder had been a stranger.

XXVIII. All unpaid Capital, or money due on account of the Capital Stock of the Company, shall be deemed a debt due to the Company, and shall be recoverable as such by the description of money due by the defendant, on account of a share in the business of the Company.

XXIX. A Registered Company, which shall commit any act which is hereby deemed an act of forfeiture, shall be liable to the jurisdiction of the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, and a petition to the said Court in the case of such Company shall be prosecuted in the same manner as petitions in the case of Insolvent Debtors: and in case of an adjudication of forfeiture the law and practice of the said Court, with such alterations of the practice as, from time to time, shall seem to the Court necessary, shall be extended to the case of such Company, as in the case of an adjudication of insolvency in the case of an Insolvent Debtor.

XXX. An adjudication of forfeiture against any such Company shall not be deemed an act of insolvency of the individual members of such Company.

XXXI. An adjudication of forfeiture against such Company shall convey to the Assignee or Assignees appointed, the whole of the real and personal property of the said Company, and all debts, causes of suit, and possibilities of interest, with the like power to sue either at Law or in Equity, as fully and effectually as an adjudication of insolvency against any individual could convey the same by any of the laws now in force or hereafter to be in force affecting Insolvents.

XXXII. Whenever an adjudication of forfeiture shall have issued against any such Company, the Assignee or Assignees from time to time may compromise any debts or claims belonging to the said Company, and may grant discharges to the parties to such compromises.

XXXIII. Whenever the Director of any Registered Company shall be unable to meet the engagements of the Company, they shall at a special meeting of the Directors, convened for that purpose, and by such a number and majority of them as would be sufficient for any ordinary business of the Company, declare such inability by a resolution, which being signed by the Directors by whose votes it has been carried, shall be forthwith published in the Government Gazette of the Presidency; and for two calendar months after the publication of such resolution, but not later, such resolution shall be deemed an act of forfeiture of their privileges for the sole purpose, nevertheless, of supporting a petition to the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors in case a petition shall be filed within two months after the date of the publication thereof as aforesaid, but not afterwards.

XXXIV. Any Registered Company which shall not, within two months after judgment and the issue of a writ of execution thereof, satisfy such judgment, shall be deemed to have committed an act of forfeiture, and thereupon the execution creditor, or any creditor to whom such Company shall be indebted to the amount of Company's Rupees Five Hundred, or any two creditors to whom such Company shall be indebted to the amount of Company's Rupees Seven Hundred, or any three or more creditors to whom such Company shall be indebted to the amount of Company's Rupees One Thousand, may present a petition to the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at the Presidency within which such Company is registered, stating the amount due to such creditor or creditors, and the registry and act of forfeiture of such Company, and praying such Court would proceed as if such Company or the Shareholders thereof had petitioned such Court for relief under the laws in force for Relief of Insolvent Debtors; whereupon the Court shall enquire into the truth of such petition, and if such Court shall be satisfied thereof, such Court shall adjudge the same to be true, and that such Company has committed an act of forfeiture, and proceed thereon pursuant to the provisions of the Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in India, and of this Act.

XXXV. Upon the filing of any petition to the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the case of any Registered Company, whether by a Shareholder or by a Creditor, the Court shall make the like vesting order for the purpose of vesting all the real and personal estate of the Company in the Official Assignee, and such other orders auxiliary thereto as the Court might make in case of an individual insolvent debtor, and all the powers and authorities of the said Court, and all the laws relating to insolvent debtors shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, be extended to all such Registered Companies.

XXXVI. Whenever there shall be an adjudication of forfeiture against any Registered Company, the Directors of such Company at the time of filing the petition shall be subject to the orders of the said Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, and it shall be their duty individually or collectively to prepare such balance sheet and other accounts as the Court may deem necessary, and to assist the Official Assignee in the examination of and closing all the affairs of the Company; and every Director and person who shall at any time have been a Director of the Company shall be liable to be examined upon oath, and to make full and true discovery of the estate and effects, past and present, and business affairs, and interests of the Company, either orally or upon written interrogatories, as the Court may order.

XXXVII. Upon the adjudication of forfeiture against any Registered Company, the claims of any creditor of the Company against the Shareholders shall not be enforced otherwise than under this Act, except in respect of any special contract, or any debt or liability contracted by any Shareholder in his individual capacity, otherwise than by taking a share in the business of the Company.

Company as the Official Assignee can make an approximate estimate of the amount of the debts and other claims against the Company, or of any certain portion thereof, the said Court, on the application of the Official Assignee, shall order such sum to be raised by contribution of the Shareholders as may appear to the said Court necessary for the satisfaction of such debts and claims; and may from time to time order such further sum to be raised in like manner as may appear necessary: and upon obtaining such order the Official Assignee shall assess the said sum ratably amongst the Shareholders, according to the number of shares held by them respectively, and immediately proceed to collect the same; and monthly or oftener shall report defaulters to the said Court, together with the amounts at which they were assessed respectively, and thereupon the said Court, if satisfied that the said assessment is just, shall order the payment of such assessment within such time and upon such notice or demand by advertisements or otherwise, as the Court may see fit; and nonpayment thereof within the time ordered by the Court shall be an act of insolvency of the defaulting Shareholders; and the said Assignee, or any person being a creditor of the said Company to the amount of Company's Rupees Five Hundred, or any two creditors to whom such Company shall be indebted to the amount of Company's Rupees Seven Hundred, or any three or more creditors to whom such Company shall be indebted to the amount of Company's Rupees One Thousand, may present a petition to the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors of the Presidency within which the said Company is registered, stating such act of insolvency, and praying that such defaulting Shareholder may be adjudged to have committed an act of insolvency, and upon such petition being duly verified, the Court shall be empowered to adjudge that such defaulting Shareholder has committed an act of insolvency, and the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the Presidency in which the defaulter is resident, may proceed thereon according to the provisions of the Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in India.

XXXIX. The Shareholders of untransferred shares whose names are in the last general memorial, including those (if any) who have been subsequently returned as Shareholders of the Company, shall be liable and be called upon in the first instance to satisfy the debts of the Company; but in case it shall appear to the said Court that full satisfaction cannot, within such time as may appear reasonable to the Court, be otherwise obtained, such other persons as at any time within three years next before the adjudication of forfeiture shall have been returned in any memorial as Shareholders of the Company shall be liable to contribute to such amount collectively as the Court may order; and, upon every order for contribution from former Shareholders, the Official Assignee shall proceed as hereinbefore prescribed in the case of present Shareholders.

XL. In fixing the sum to be raised from time to time by assessment of the Shareholders it shall be in the discretion of the Court to make such allowance for unrealized assets of the said Company, as the Court may deem just.

XLI. No such assessment shall be deemed erroneous or set aside merely by reason of its being in excess of other assessments ratably considered, if the same be needed for satisfaction of any creditor of the said Company, and any such assessment may be reduced, when expedient, by order of the Court.

XLII. If on realizing the assets of the Company a balance shall remain, after payment of the debts and other claims against the Company, the said Court may order the repayment out of such balance, first, of such sums or ratable parts thereof, as have been paid by any Shareholders not liable in the first instance to satisfy the debts of the Company; and secondly, of such sums or ratable parts thereof as have been paid by any other Shareholders in excess of their ratable liability, according to the number of their shares, regard being had to the number of other assessed Shareholders; and lastly, if such a balance shall not thereby be exhausted, the said Court may order the distribution of the remainder thereof among the Shareholders by the Official Assignee upon a scheme or plan to be submitted to and approved by the said Court, or may order the same to be paid to the Accountant General of the said Court to the credit of the said Company, to abide such proceedings as any parties interested therein may take at Law or in Equity: and any order of the said Court for the disbursement of money shall be a sufficient authority to the said Official Assignee to protect him against all claims in respect of such disbursement by any Shareholder or Creditor.

XLIII. If any Registered Company which carried on its business before registration shall incur an adjudication of forfeiture before it has been registered for three years, such persons as are not registered Shareholders but were Co-partners or Shareholders thereof at any time before the registration of the Company, but within three years before the filing of the petition for relief, shall be liable to contribute to the debts of the Company, in like manner as if they were on the first memorial of the Shareholders of the Company.

XLIV. Whenever it shall appear to the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors that the aid of a Court of Equity will be necessary for closing the affairs of any Registered Company, against which an adjudication of forfeiture has been made, the said Court may order the Official or other Assignees to take proceedings in the Supreme Court in Equity, by bill, or by petition for the like relief as might be had by bill, and the said Supreme Court shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a bill filed, and such orders shall have the same effect and be executed in the same manner as decretal orders.

XLV. The said Supreme Court may likewise on petition of any Shareholder having any claim against any other Shareholder, in respect of the affairs of the Company, make such order as it may deem just for settling such claim between such Shareholders.

XLVI. Whenever any Shareholder in a Registered Company, which shall have been adjudged to have incurred forfeiture, shall be adjudged an insolvent, either on his own petition, or under the provisions aforesaid or otherwise, the Assignee or Assignees of such Registered Company, shall be entitled, from time to time, to rank as a creditor on the estate of such insolvent, for such ratable contributions, as the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall, from time to time, appoint to be paid by such insolvent Shareholder.

XLVII. After the affairs of any such Registered Company against which there has been an adjudication of forfeiture are closed under this Act, the Company shall forfeit all its privileges under this Act, and the partnership shall be dissolved.

XXXVIII. As soon after an adjudication of forfeiture against any

For relief of certain sufferers by the Insolvency of Sir Thomas Turton, Baronet.

[6th June 1851.]

Whereas, under an Act of Parliament passed in the fortieth year of the Reign of King George the Third, entitled "an Act for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the British Territories in India, and the better Administration of Justice within the same," Sir Thomas Edward Mitchell Turton, Baronet, as Registrar of the Ecclesiastical Court at Fort William in Bengal, was empowered to administer to the Estates of all British Subjects dying intestate within the said Presidency of Fort William in default of any claim made and established on behalf of any next of kin or Creditor to the deceased; And whereas the said Sir Thomas, on or about the 25th day of February 1848, resigned the Office of Registrar of the said Ecclesiastical Court, then being insolvent, and unable to pay several large sums of money due to the owners of sundry Estates to which he had administered or had assumed to administer under the power vested in him by the said Act, and also other sums of money due to the owners of sundry Estates of which he had taken charge as such Registrar, although on account of the small value thereof or otherwise, on Letters of Administration of the last mentioned Estates were granted to him, and also other sums of money belonging either to suitors of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or other persons for whose benefit a trust was created in the said Sir Thomas, by reason of his holding the office of Registrar of the said Court, on its Ecclesiastical, Equity, and Admiralty sides, or as Curator under Act XIX. 1841, or as Official Trustee under Act XVII. 1843;

And whereas, in order to know the deficiency of the said Sir Thomas in respect of the said several particulars of charge, certain Commissioners were appointed by an order under the seal of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, bearing date the 8th March 1848, to enquire and report thereon to the Court;

And whereas the said Commissioners made their report to the said Court, bearing date the 25th January 1849, and now filed of record in the said Court, whereby they reported fully on the several matters committed to them as aforesaid, setting forth in the body of the said Report, and also in certain Schedules thereunto annexed marked (A,) (B,) (C,) (D,) (E,) and (F,) respectively the names and titles of the several Estates, suitors and other persons to whom upon the account taken by them, money or securities for money appeared to be due by the said Sir Thomas.

And whereas, it is deemed expedient that the said sufferers by the insolvency of the said Sir Thomas Edward Mitchell Turton be reimbursed their several losses out of the accumulated produce of certain unclaimed Estates, now in the custody and management of the Administrator General, due provision being made for securing the interests of the rightful claimants thereunto, if any shall hereafter appear; It is enacted as follows :

ACT No. IX. of 1851.

An Act for the prevention of Gambling in Bombay.

[11th July, 1851.]

Whereas the vice of Gambling has of late years much increased, and many gaming houses have been established within the Town and Island of Bombay, for suppression of which the laws now in force are inadequate; It is enacted as follows :

I. So much of Article II. of Title Fifth of a Rule, Ordinance and Regulation passed by the Governor of Bombay in Council on the 11th day of April 1827, and registered in the Supreme Court of Bombay on the 22nd day of June 1827, as provides that the Court of Petty Sessions shall exercise jurisdiction over common gamblers who shall not give a satisfactory account of any other means of livelihood, is repealed.

II. Every person who, within the Town and Island of Bombay, shall keep a common gaming house, or any room, or other place used for the purposes of a common gaming house, or who shall have the care or management thereof, or shall in any manner conduct the business of any such common gaming house, either as Banker, Shroff, Croupier or otherwise, shall, on conviction before the Court of Petty Sessions, be punishable by fine not exceeding One Thousand Rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Court, may be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any period not exceeding six Calendar months.

III. And, whereas it may be doubted, whether or not certain houses or rooms alleged or reputed to be opened for the use of the subscribers only, or not open to all persons desirous of using the same, are to be deemed common gaming houses, it is declared and enacted that, in default of other evidence proving any house, room, or place to be used as a common gaming house, it shall be enough, in support of the allegation in any information or indictment that any house, room, or place is a common gaming house, to prove that such house, room, or place is kept or used for playing therein at cards, dice, or any unlawful game, and that a bank is kept there by one or more of the players exclusively of the others, or that the chances of any game played therein are not alike favorable to all the players, including, among the players, the banker or other person by whom the game is managed, or against whom the other players stake, play or bet ; and every such house, room, or place shall be deemed a common gaming house.

IV. Every person who shall be found in any such common gaming house playing or gaming with cards, dice, counters, money, or other instruments of gaming, or who shall be found there present during such playing or gaming, or for the purpose of gaming, or who shall be found gaming with cards, dice, counters, money, or other instruments of gaming in any street or public place or thoroughfare within the said town and island, whether playing for any money, wager, stake, or otherwise, shall be punishable, on conviction before the Court of Petty Sessions, by fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees ; or in the discretion of the said Court, may be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any period not exceeding three Calendar months.

V. Any Magistrate of Police, upon information laid before him on oath that there is reason to suspect any house, room, or place within the said town and island to be used as a common gaming house, may, by his warrant, give authority to any Constable of Police in the town and island of Bombay to enter, with such assistance as may be found necessary, by night or by day, and by force if necessary, any such house, room, or other place, and to take into custody all persons whom he finds therein, whether or not then actually gaming ; and to seize all instruments of gaming, and all monies and securities for money found therein, and to search all parts of the house, room, or place which he shall have so entered, when he has reason to believe that any instruments of gaming are concealed ; and to search also the persons of those whom he so takes into custody, and to seize and take possession of all cards, dice, counters, and other instruments of gaming which he shall find upon such search.

VI. When any cards, dice, gaming table or cloth, or other instruments of gaming are found in any house, room, or place of which information has been given on oath to a Magistrate of Police, that it is suspected of being used as a common gaming house, or about the person of any of those who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, room, or place is used as a common gaming house, and that the persons found therein were there present for the purpose of gaming, although no play was actually seen by the Constable or any of his Assistants.

VII. On conviction of any person for keeping or being present for the purpose of gaming in any common gaming house, all the instruments of gaming found therein shall be destroyed by order of the Court of Petty Sessions, which shall also order all, or any of the securities for money, and other articles seized, not being instruments of gaming, to be sold and converted into money, and the proceeds thereof, with all monies seized therein, to be forfeited, or in its discretion may order any part thereof to be returned to the parties appearing to have been severally thereunto entitled.

VIII. Any Officer of Police may arrest without warrant all persons whom he may see in the act of gaming in any street or public place or thoroughfare in the said town or island, and seize all cards, dice, counters, and instruments of gaming which he finds in their possession, which, on conviction of any of the parties, shall be destroyed by order of the Court.

IX. It shall not be necessary, in order to convict any person of keeping a common gaming house, or of being concerned in the management of any common gaming house or gaming table, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

X. Any person who shall have been concerned in any unlawful gaming, and who shall be examined as a witness before the said Court of Petty Sessions on the trial of any person or persons for a breach of any of the provisions of this Act, and who upon such examination shall make true and faithful discovery to the best of his or her knowledge of all things as to which he or she shall be examined, and who shall thereupon receive from the said Court a certificate in writing to that effect, shall be freed from all prosecutions under this Act for any thing done before that time in respect of such unlawful gaming.

XI. Nothing in the foregoing provisions of this Act contained shall be held to apply to any game of mere skill played at Hotels or Taverns, licensed by the Collector of Land Revenue, and the Senior Magistrate of Police under Act XVIII. 1840, or in any place of public resort licensed by the Court of Petty Sessions under Act XIV. 1842.

XII. Every person who shall by any fraud or unlawful device or ill practice in playing at or with cards, dice, or other game, or in bearing a part in the stakes, wagers or adventures, or in betting on the sides or hands, of them that do play, or in wagering on the event of any game, sport, pastime, or exercise, win from any other person for himself, or any other or others any sum of money or valuable thing, shall be deemed guilty of obtaining such money or valuable thing from such other person by a false pretence, with intent to cheat or defraud such person of the same, and being convicted thereof shall be punished accordingly.

XIII. No conviction or other proceeding before the said Court of Petty Sessions under this Act shall be quashed, or set aside or adjudged void or insufficient for want of form, or be removed by Certiorari into Her Majesty's Supreme Court.

XIV. All fines imposed under this Act shall be recovered under Act II. 1839.

XV. The Court of Petty Sessions shall on conviction have power to direct any portion, not exceeding one-fourth of any fine which shall be levied under the provisions of this Act, or any part of the monies or proceeds of articles seized in any common gaming house and ordered to be forfeited, to be paid to an informer, and the balance of such fines and monies or the whole thereof, as the case may be, shall be applied to the use of the Municipal Fund under Act XI. 1851.

ACT. NO. X. OF 1851.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith. To all to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting. Whereas His late Majesty King George the Third by his Letters Patent under the Great Seal of Great Britain, bearing date at Westminster the Twenty-sixth day of March, in the Fourteenth year of His Reign, did of his special grace, certain knowledge and mere motion for Himself, his Heirs and Successors, grant, direct, ordain, and appoint that there should be within the Factory of Fort William at Calcutta in Bengal a Court of Record which should be called the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal. And he did thereby create, direct and constitute the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal to be a Court of Record with such powers and authorities as are in and by the said Letters Patent mentioned and contained. And by the said Letters Patent his said Majesty did reserve to Himself his Heirs and Successors all amerciaments, fines, ransoms and forfeitures to be set and imposed by the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or otherwise incurred. faults, contempts, neglects, or forfeitures whatsoever. To have, hold, receive, levy, sue for, recover and enjoy the same to the said East India Company in as large and ample manner to all intents and purposes as we our Heirs or Successors could or might have had, held, received, levied, sued for, recovered and enjoyed the same if these Presents had not been made, without any account or other matter or thing to be rendered or paid for the same unto Us, our Heirs or Successors. Provided always nevertheless that it shall and may be lawful, and we hereby authorize and empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal aforesaid to make such satisfaction to Prosecutors of Information or Indictments as to the said Court shall seem reasonable and fit, out of any fine or fines, to be set or imposed upon any person or persons who shall be convicted upon such proceedings respectively. And all Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery now and for the time being, all Sheriffs, and other Officers and Ministers, and all others therein concerned respectively by virtue of these our Letters Patent, to cause to be paid over to the said East India Company from time to time all such amerciaments, fines, ransoms, forfeitures, penalties, parts of penalties, and sums of money as shall be set or imposed upon, or be forfeited or accrue due by or from any person or persons as aforesaid, and the same shall be paid or satisfied by such person or persons accordingly, or otherwise shall and may be recovered and levied by any of the ways and means before mentioned, subject nevertheless to such Orders as shall be made for the satisfaction of Prosecutors as hereinbefore directed, and we do by these presents, for Us, our Heirs and Successors, declare and grant that such payments so to be made shall be as full and sufficient a discharge to all intents and purposes to the said Chief Justice and other Justices of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal and of the Justices of any other Court of Justice there, Justice of the Peace, Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, and the said respective Officers and Ministers and all and every other person and persons as if such payments had been made to Us, our Heirs and Successors at the receipt of our or their Exchequer.

And we hereby further will and direct, that the Commissioners of the said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery and the Justices of any other Court of Justice there, and the Justice of the Peace in their Courts of General and Quarter Sessions shall by themselves or by the proper Officer of the same Court in every Term next after the holding of the said Courts respectively deliver up to the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal aforesaid upon Oath and Estreat Roll of all amerciaments, fines, ransoms, forfeitures, penalties, and sums of money which shall have been set, imposed, lost, or forfeited by any person or persons whomsoever at or by or before the said Courts or any of them, or by or before any of the said Commissioners or Justices of the Peace during the time of the holding any of the said Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery or Quarter Session. Any period subsequent to the time when the next preceding Court aforesaid were last holden respectively.

With power also for the said Governor in Council of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal aforesaid by any Order to cause a share or proportion of any fine imposed on any person or persons for any delinquency or misdemeanour prosecuted to judgment to be paid over to the Prosecutor towards defraying his expences occasioned thereby, as such Governor in Council shall think fit and expedient.

RULES, TABLES OF FEES, AND SCHEDULES, OF THE SUPREME COURT AT BOMBAY.

MAY 1851.

SITTINGS AFTER FIRST TERM, May 8, 1851.

Whereas it is desirable to lessen the expense of Law Proceedings on all sides of this Court, and to assimilate the practice to that of the Superior Courts at Westminster Hall wherever the English practice is found to be more beneficial to suitors; It is hereby ordered that the following Rules be henceforth observed, and all previous Rules and Orders or parts thereof inconsistent with these Rules, but not further or otherwise, are hereby abrogated and discharged.

GENERAL RULES.

1. All the offices of the Court shall be open for the despatch of business from half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon during term, and from eleven o'clock till five during vacation.
2. A return of fees by each of the officers of the Court shall be laid before the Judges on the 1st day of February term in each year, showing the net value of the office for the last year, and the average on the preceding seven years.
3. Verification of proceedings may be made by affidavit instead of certificate in cases where affidavits may be used with greater economy.
4. All affidavits on all sides of the Court are to be taken and expressed in the first person of the deponent, under the penalty as to costs mentioned in Lord Lyndhurst's order 128 of May 1846.

ECCLESIASTICAL SIDE.

1. The practice of the Ecclesiastical Court of the diocese of London is adopted in this Court with respect to probates and letters of administration, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the country permit, subject to the Rules of this Court with respect to caveats, and the taking of evidence by viva voce examination.
2. To obtain probate, the Proctor, on being satisfied as to the genuineness and due execution of the will, shall indorse upon it the Jurat, and draft an affidavit to be sworn by the executor, stating the time and place of the death of the testator, and the nature and amount of his property, and shall appear before one of the Commissioners of the Court with the executor, who shall thereupon, be sworn to his trust.
3. The Proctor shall then deposit the will, affidavit, and all testamentary papers with the Registrar, and the Registrar on being satisfied of the due execution of the will, on the expiration of fourteen days after the deposit of the testamentary papers, shall deliver out the probate under the Seal of the Court according to the present practice, unless a caveat has been filed.
4. In all cases of wills of Hindu females, and in other cases both of will and intestacy, where, in the opinion of the Registrar, notice of the application ought to be given, probate on letters of administration shall not be delivered out of the Registry until fourteen days after an advertisement giving notice of the application has been inserted in some newspaper, to be named or approved of by the Registrar, or until after such citations or notices have been served as the Registrar shall direct, but formal citations are not to be required except in cases where they are necessary, by English practice.

5. To obtain administration, the Proctor, on being satisfied as to the claim of the party to the administration, shall draft an act to lead the administration with an affidavit from the party stating the time and place of the intestate's death, the absence of any testamentary paper, the nature and amount of the property to be administered, the family or other relatives of the intestate, with the name and address, in case of applications by Native widows, of the nearest male relative of the husband, and on the affidavit being sworn by the applicant, the Proctor shall take him before one of the Commissioners of the Court to be sworn to his trust.

6. The Proctor shall then deposit the act and affidavit with the Registrar, who, on being satisfied of the representative character of the claimant, and on execution of the usual bond, shall issue letters of administration under the Seal of the Court.

7. No proxy is necessary where the executor or party seeking administration resides within the jurisdiction of the Court.

8. Applications to the Court, when necessary, to be made by motion on the papers deposited in the Registry.

9. Where an executor or next of kin, subject to the Ecclesiastical Law of England, is resident in India, and neglects to represent the party deceased, citations may be issued by the Registrar at the instance of any party interested in the representation, which citations shall be served personally if the party is resident in the islands of Bombay or Salsette, or may be served through the Post Office or otherwise as the Registrar directs.

10. In all applications by the Administrator General for Letters of administration, so long as his office is combined with that of Ecclesiastical Registrar, he shall apply by petition to the sitting Judge for his fiat.

11. It shall not be necessary to submit Proctor's bills for taxation, unless the party to be charged thereby desire to have the bill taxed.

12. Ecclesiastical business standing for hearing shall be taken before all other business on every Monday not being an Insolvent Court day.

PLEA SIDE.

1. Service of process may be made by the party or his Attorney in all cases where service may be so made in England, except in cases where the Charter directs that service shall be made by the Sheriff.

2. On the plaint being filed, the plaintiff may serve a copy upon the defendant as in England, and all subsequent Pleadings may be delivered between the parties, but the party who sets down the cause for trial must make up a record on plain paper of all the pleadings and the particulars of demand, and file the same with the Prothonotary.

3. Defendant may plead several matters without a special order, and if any of such pleas should be objected to, a summons may be taken out before a Judge.

4. The signature of Counsel need not be obtained for Special pleas.

5. Blank subpoenas may be taken out according to the English practice, but more than six names are not to be inserted therein.

6. When the plaintiff is entitled to sign Judgment, he may do so on his own responsibility, as in England.

7. In all ejectment suits, the party filing the plaint shall deliver with the plaint a bill of particulars, describing the premises sought to be recovered.

8. In all other matters not provided for by rule, the practice of the Court of Queen's Bench shall be followed as near as may be.

EQUITY SIDE.

1. Any person seeking equitable relief may, without special leave of the Court, and instead of proceeding by bill of complaint in the usual form, file a claim in the Registrar's office in any of the following cases, that is to say, in any cases where the plaintiff is or claims to be,—

1st. A creditor upon the estate of any deceased person, seeking payment of his debt out of the deceased's assets.

2nd. A legatee under the will of any deceased person not being a Mahomedan or Hindoo, seeking payment or delivery of his legacy out of the deceased's personal assets.

3rd. A legatee under the will of any deceased person being a Mahomedan or Hindoo, seeking payment or delivery of his legacy out of the deceased's general estate.

4th. A residuary legatee, or one of the residuary legatees, of any deceased person, seeking an account of the residue, and payment or appropriation of his share therein.

5th. The person or any of the persons entitled to the personal estate of any person, not being a Mahomedan or Hindoo, who may have died intestate, and seeking an account of such personal estate, and payment of his share thereof.

6th. The person or any of the persons entitled to the estate of any Mahomedan who may have died intestate, and seeking an account of such estate, and the ascertainment, payment, or appropriation of his share thereof, according to the Mahomedan law of succession ab intestato.

7th. The person or any of the persons entitled to the estate of any Hindoo, who may have died intestate, and seeking an account of a partition or an account and partition of such estate.

8th. An executor or administrator of any deceased person, seeking to have the assets of such deceased person administered under the directions of the Court.

9th. A legal or equitable mortgagee or person entitled to a lien as security for a debt, seeking foreclosure or sale, or otherwise to enforce his security.

10th. A person entitled to redeem any legal or equitable mortgage or any lien, seeking to redeem the same.

11th. A person entitled to the specific performance of an agreement for the sale or purchase of any property, seeking such specific performance.

12th. A person entitled to an account of the dealings and transactions of a partnership, dissolved or expired, seeking such account.

13th. A person entitled to an equitable estate or interest, and seeking to use the name of his trustee in prosecuting an action for his own sole benefit.

14th. A person entitled to have a new trustee appointed in a case where there is no power in the instrument creating the trust to appoint new trustees, or where the power cannot be exercised, and seeking to appoint a new trustee.

II. Such claim in the several cases enumerated in Order I. is to be in the form and to the effect set forth in Schedule (A.) hereunder written as applicable to the particular case, and the filing of such claim is, in all cases not otherwise provided for, to have the form and effect of filing a bill.

III. Upon filing such claim, the plaintiff thereby claiming shall sue out a writ of summons against the defendant to the claim, requiring him to cause an appearance to be entered to such writ, and also requiring him on a day or time to be therein named, or on the motion day then next following, to shew cause, if he can, why such relief as is claimed by the plaintiff should not be had, or why such order as shall be just with reference to the claim should not be made.

IV. Such writ of summons is to be in the form and to the effect in that behalf set forth in No. 1 of Schedule (B.) hereunder written, with such variations as circumstances may require, and is to issue upon a Judge's order obtained on the Registrar's certificate of a claim filed, and the usual affidavit that the defendant is subject to the jurisdiction of the Court, and is to be sealed in the same manner as a writ of subpoena and respondentum.

V. In any case other than those enumerated in order I., or in any case to which the forms set forth in Schedule (A.) are not applicable, the Court (if it shall so think fit,) may, upon the ex parte application of any person seeking equitable relief, and upon reading the claim proposed to be filed, give leave to file such claim, and sue out a writ of summons thereon under these orders; and if such leave be given, an indorsement thereon by the Registrar upon the proposed claim shall be sufficient authority for the Registrar to receive and file such claim.

VI. In the case provided for by the 5th article of order I., any one person, who under the 3rd or 4th article of order I., might have claimed relief against the executor or administrator of the deceased person whose personal estate is sought to be administered, and the executor or co-administrator (if any) of the plaintiff, may be named in the writ of summons as defendants to the suit; and in the first instance no other person need be therein named.

VII. In other cases, the only person who need be named in the writ of summons as defendant to the suit in the first instance, is the person against whom the relief is directly claimed.

VIII. All claims, and all writs, caveats, proceedings, directions, and orders consequent thereon, either before the Court or in the Master's offices, are to be deemed proceedings, writs, and orders, subject to the general rules, orders, and practice of the Court, so far as the same are, or may be, applicable to each particular case, and consistent with these orders; and all orders of the Court made in such proceedings are to be enforced in the same manner and by the same process as orders of the Court made in a cause upon bill filed.

IX. Writs of summons are, as to the number of defendants to be named therein—as to the mode of service thereof, and as to the time and mode of entering appearances thereto,—to be subject to the same rules as writs of subpoena to appear to and answer bills.

X. The time for shewing cause named in any writ of summons (except a writ of summons to revive or carry on proceedings) is to be six days at the least after the time limited by the writ for the appearance of the defendant, but by consent of the parties, and with the leave of the Court, cause may be shewn on any earlier day.

XI. At the time for showing cause named in the writ, or on the motion day then next following, or so soon after as the case can be heard, the defendant, having previously appeared, is personally or by Counsel to shew cause in Court, if he can (and if necessary by affidavit), why such relief as is claimed by the claim should not be had against him.

XII. At the time appointed for shewing cause, upon the motion of the plaintiff, and on hearing the claim and what may be alleged on the part of the defendant, or upon reading a certificate of the appearance being entered by the defendant, or an affidavit of the writ of summons being duly served, the Court may, if it shall think fit, make an order granting or refusing the relief claimed, or directing any accounts or enquiries to be taken or made, or other proceedings to be had, for the purpose of ascertaining the plaintiff's title to the relief claimed; and further, the Court may direct such (if any) persons or classes of persons as it shall think necessary or fit to be summoned, or ordered to appear, as parties to the claim, or on any proceedings before the Master, with reference to any accounts or enquiries directed to be taken or made, or otherwise.

XIII. Every order to be so made is to have the effect of, and may be enforced as, a decree or decretal order made in a suit commenced by bill, and duly prosecuted to a hearing, according to the present course of the Court.

XIV. If, upon the application for any such order, or during any proceedings under any such order when made, it shall appear to the Court that, for the purposes of justice between the parties, it is necessary or expedient that a bill should be filed, the Court may direct or authorize such bill to be filed, subject to such terms, as to costs or otherwise, as may be thought proper.

XV. The orders made for granting relief in the several cases to which the forms set forth in Schedule (A.) are applicable, may, if the Court thinks fit, be in the form and to the effect set forth in Schedule (C) as applicable to the particular case, with such variations as circumstances may require.

XVI. Under every order of reference to the Master under these orders, the Master is, unless the Court otherwise orders, to be at liberty to cause the parties to be examined upon oath, upon interrogatories or viva voce, and to produce deeds, books, papers, and writings, as he shall think fit, and to examine witnesses upon oath, and to state any circumstances specially as he shall think fit, and to cause advertisement for creditors, and if he shall think it necessary, but not otherwise, for heirs and next of kin, or other unascertained persons, and the representative of such as may be dead, to be published in the usual forms, or otherwise, as the circumstances of the case may require; and in such advertisements to appoint a time within which such persons are to come in and prove their claims, and within which time unless they so come in, they are to be excluded from the benefit of the order, and in taking any account of a deceased's personal or moveable estate under any such order of reference, the Master is to take an account of the personal or moveable estate of the deceased come to the hands of the person against whom such account is directed to be taken, or to the hands of any other person by his order, or for his use, and is also to inquire and state to the Court what part, if any, of the deceased's personal estate is outstanding or undisposed of, and is also to compute interest on the deceased's debts, as to such of them as carry interest, after the rate they respectively carry, and as to all others, after the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date of the order, and to compute interest on legacies after the rate of six per cent. per annum from the end of one year after the deceased's death, unless any other time of payment or rate of interest is directed by the will, but in that case according to the will, and in taking any account of a deceased's real or unmoveable estate, he is to inquire and state to the Court of or to what real or unmoveable estate, if any, the deceased died possessed or entitled, and who since the death of the deceased has been and at the time of taking such account is in possession thereof, or in the receipt of the rent or profits thereof; and if he shall find that any part of the rents, issues, profits, or produce of such real or unmoveable estate has been received by the defendant against whom such account shall be directed, he shall take an account of all such rents, issues, profits, and produce as have come to the hands of the said defendant, or of any other person by his order or for his use, and under every order whereby any property is ordered to be sold, with the approbation of the Master, it is to be understood that the same is to be sold to the best purchaser that can be got for the same, to be allowed by the Master, and that all proper parties are to join in the conveyance as the Master shall direct.

XVII. If, upon the proceedings before the Master under any such order, it shall appear to the Master that some persons, not already parties, ought to attend, or to be enabled to attend the proceedings before him, he is to be at liberty to certify the same; and upon the production of such certificate to the Registrar, the plaintiff may sue out a writ of summons requiring the persons named in such certificate to appear to the writ, and such persons are thereupon to be named and treated as defendants to the suit.

XVIII. Such writ of summons, under an order or Master's certificate, is to be in the form and to the effect in that behalf set forth in No. 2 of Schedule (B.), with such variations as circumstances may require.

XIX. The persons so summoned, having appeared, are to be at liberty to attend, and to be entitled to notice of the proceedings before the Master under the order of reference, subject to such directions as the Master may make in respect thereof.

XX. Where any proceedings originally commenced by claim and writ of summons shall, by the death of parties or otherwise, have become abated or defective for want of parties, and no new relief is sought, a claim to revive or carry on the suit may be filed, and such claim is to be in the form set forth in No. 12 of Schedule (A.)

XXI. The party claiming simply to revive or carry on proceedings may sue out a writ of summons requiring the defendant thereto to appear to the writ, and to shew cause, if he can, why the proceedings should not be revived or carried on.

XXII. Such writ of summons is to be in the form and to the effect in that behalf set forth in No. 3 of Schedule (B.), with such variations as circumstances may require.

XXIII. If any defendant to any such writ is desirous of shewing cause why the proceedings should not be revived or carried on, he is to appear, and to file a caveat against such revivor or carrying on, in the Registrar's office, in the form set forth in No. 4. of Schedule (B.), and to give notice thereof in writing to the opposite party. If no such caveat be filed within eight days from the time limited for the appearance to the writ, that at the expiration of such eight days the proceedings are to be revived, and may be carried on without any order for the purpose; and a certificate of the Registrar that no caveat has been filed within the time limited is to be a sufficient authority for the Master to proceed. But if any such caveat be filed, the proceedings are not to be revived or carried on without an order to be obtained on motion, of which due notice is to be given.

XXIV. Where any further or supplemental relief is sought, and such supplemental relief is such as is provided for in any of the cases enumerated under order I., a supplemental claim may be filed in such of the forms set forth in Schedule (A.) as is applicable to the case.

XXV. If such supplemental relief is not such as is provided for by order XXIV., a supplemental claim may be filed, stating shortly the nature of the plaintiff's case, and the supplemental relief claimed, but the leave of the Court is to be obtained previously to the filing thereof, upon an ex parte application for the purpose, in a manner specified in order VI.

XXVI. A writ of summons may be sued out, and other proceedings may be taken, upon a supplemental claim, in like manner as upon an original claim.

XXVII. Guardians ad litem to defend may be appointed for infants or persons of weak or unsound mind, against whom any writ of summons may have issued under these orders, in like manner as guardians ad litem to answer and defend are now appointed in suits on bills filed.

XXVIII. Any order or proceeding made, or purporting to be made, in pursuance of these orders, may be discharged, varied, or set aside on motion, and any order for accelerating proceedings may be made by consent.

XXIX. If any of the cases enumerated in order I. involve or are attended by such special circumstances, affecting either the estate or the personal conduct of the defendant, as to require special relief, the plaintiff is at liberty to seek his relief by bill, as if these orders had not been made.

XXX. If at any time after these orders come into operation any suit for any of the purposes to which the forms set forth in Schedule (A.) are applicable, shall be commenced by bill, and prosecuted to a hearing in the usual course, and upon the hearing it shall appear to the Court that an order to the effect of the decree then made, or an order equally beneficial to the plaintiff, might have been obtained upon a proceeding by summons in the manner authorised by these orders, the Court may order that the increased costs which have been occasioned by the proceeding by bill, beyond the amount of costs which would have been sustained in the proceeding by summons, shall be borne and paid by the plaintiff.

XXXI. In these orders and schedules, the following words have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, over and above their several ordinary meanings, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, viz.

1st. Words importing the singular number include the plural number, and words importing the plural number include the singular number.

2nd. Words importing the masculine gender include females.

3rd. The word "affidavit" includes "affirmation" and "declaration on honour."

4th. The word "person" or "party" includes "a body politic or corporate."

5th. The word "legacy" includes "an annuity," and "a specific as well as a pecuniary legacy."

6th. The word "legatee" includes "a person interested in a legacy."

7th. The expression "residuary legatee" includes "a person interested in the residue."

XXXII. When a party shows cause on a claim being filed, and it appears to the Court that questions of fact or mixed questions of law and fact arise between the parties, the Court will proceed to settle issues without a reference, and if necessary to direct interrogations to be exhibited in the subject matter of the claim or counter claim, and will give the necessary directions for trial as in the case of an issue directed by the High Court of Chancery.

XXXIII. Claims may be amended at the trial under the rule applicable to issues at common law, and before trial like bills in equity.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE MASTER.

XXXIV. Every decree or order of reference directed to the Master is to be brought into his office within eight days after the same shall have been passed and entered, and in default thereof any other party to the cause or matter is to be at liberty to bring in the same, and such party shall have the carriage of the proceedings under such decree or order, unless the Master shall otherwise specially direct.

XXXV. If upon the warrant taken out for considering the decree or order of reference, or at any time during the reference, it shall appear to the Master, with respect to the whole or any portion of the proceedings, that the interests of the parties can be classified, he is to be at liberty to require the persons constituting each or any class to be represented by the same Solicitor; and if the parties constituting such class cannot agree upon the Solicitor to represent them, the Master is to be at liberty to nominate such Solicitor for the purpose of the proceedings before him; and if any of the parties constituting such class shall decline to authorize the Solicitor so nominated to act for him, and shall insist upon being represented by a different Solicitor, such party shall personally pay the costs of his own Solicitor of and relating to the proceedings before the Master with respect to which such nomination shall have been made, and all such further costs as shall be occasioned to any of the parties by his being represented by a different Solicitor from the Solicitor to be nominated.

XXXVI. The duration of warrants, to proceed upon any reference before the Master, is not to be limited to an hour, or any other period of time, and the proceedings upon any warrant are, as far as possible, to be continued consecutively from hour to hour, and from day to day, until the same shall be completed, but not so as to cause unreasonable delay in other causes or matters depending before the Master; and the Master shall therefore be at liberty to adjourn the further hearing of any matter or thing before him to such future day as he shall think fit; and on every such adjournment the party shall be obliged to attend without a further warrant, unless the Master shall otherwise direct.

XXXVII. The Master's power to proceed ex parte, in case of the non-attendance of any party on any warrant, shall extend to the case of his non-attendance upon any adjournment of any warrant, and in case of neglect or refusal to pay such costs the party to whom they are directed to be paid shall be entitled to sue out a subpoena for the same.

XXXVIII. The Master shall have power to award costs, and to fix the sum to be paid for such costs, in case of non-attendance of any party upon any warrant, and such power shall extend to the case of his non-attendance upon any adjournment of any warrant to a fixed time.

XXXIX. In all cases where a proceeding has been unduly delayed, by reason of the neglect of any party or his Solicitor, the Master shall, in the first report which he shall make on the subject matter in respect of which such proceeding has been unduly delayed, state specially to the Court the circumstance of such delay, in order that the Court may, if it shall so think fit, in addition to and notwithstanding any costs which the Master may have certified to be paid in the cause of the proceedings before him, make such further order in respect thereof as justice shall require.

XL. If it shall appear to the Master that any state of facts, affidavit, or other proceeding before him, contains statements which are impertinent, or of unnecessary length, he shall be at liberty (without any application made to him for the purpose) to disallow such matter, distinguishing by his initials in the margin the parts so disallowed: and he shall cause a memorandum of his having disallowed such impertinent matter to be endorsed on the office copies of the draft of his report, as to the particular enquiry on which such state of facts, affidavit, or other proceeding shall have been used before him; and in the taxation of costs, no costs shall be allowed to the parties by or on whose behalf such state of facts, affidavit, or other proceeding was brought into the Master's office, for or in respect of the matter so disallowed: and the taxing officer shall allow to the other parties to the suit or matter all such costs as have been incurred by, or occasioned to, them by reason of the matter so disallowed; and such costs shall be paid by the party on whose behalf such state of facts, affidavit, or other proceeding was so brought in.

XLI. In all proceedings before the Master, where he is attended by Counsel, the allowances on the taxation of costs in respect of the fees to such Counsel are to be regulated upon the same principles as if the proceedings were before the Court.

XLII. The costs of procuring the attendance of Counsel before the Master are to be allowed in the taxation of costs as between party and party, in all cases in which the Master shall certify such attendance to be proper, and in no other case.

XLIII. All matters which are to be heard by the Master shall be entered by him in one or more list or lists, in regular order, except such matters, if any, as the Master shall direct to be taken at particular times, and the Master shall proceed to hear and dispose of the matter in such list or lists, in the order in which they stand therein; but this is to be subject to special directions by the Court or the Master in any matters requiring immediate despatch.

XLIV. If any proceeding before the Master, in any cause or matter, in any list, fails by reason of the non-attendance of any party when the same shall be called on in its turn, (from whatever cause such non-attendance may arise,) and the Master does not think it expedient to proceed ex parte, the cause or matter shall, if he think fit, be peremptorily struck out of the list, and shall on no account whatever be heard or entertained by the Master until the same be again set down in the list in regular course, by taking out a fresh warrant for that purpose.

XLV. All proceedings before the Master shall be commenced and proceeded in, not by state of facts and proposal, but orally or in such way as the Master shall direct, to be supported if need be by evidence, provided nevertheless, that where, owing to the nature of the subject, the Master shall deem it expedient to direct the parties before him to proceed by a state of facts in writing, he shall give direction to such effect, and enter the reasons for so doing in his minute book; but, subject to the above rule, the arrangement and regulation of the cause of proceedings under each reference are to be wholly subject to the control and direction of the Master; and the Master is to proceed with the reference made to him as speedily as the nature thereof and the business of the office will allow.

XLVI. In all cases of disputed fact, the Master, where it is practicable, shall take the evidence viva voce, but bonds, deeds, and notes, and other securities, and also small matters of formal proof, may be proved by affidavit as heretofore.

XLVII. In cases where the Master requires to examine witnesses vivâ voce, the subpoena for their attendance (which may contain six names) shall be issued from the Registrar's office, and Rules 136, 137 of 18th May 1843 are hereby repealed.

XLVIII. In order to resolve any question of law or fact that may arise between any of the parties before him, the Master may direct such parties as he shall in that behalf appoint to proceed to try in the Supreme Court any issues of fact or any mixed questions of law and fact proper in the opinion of the Master to be determined by the Court, and he shall settle such issues, and give such directions as he shall think right or expedient with reference thereto, and such issues shall be accordingly tried, provided always that it shall be competent to the parties at or before the trial to move that such issues shall be otherwise moulded.

XLIX. No orders, reports, or certificates of the Master shall require confirmation, except any such special report as hereinafter mentioned, and all orders unappealed against for the term of fourteen days shall be enforced by the same process as orders of the Court.

L. The Master, if he thinks fit, shall make a special report concerning any matter or thing arising in or about the matter referred to him, in order that the opinion of the Court may be taken therein or with respect thereto, and such special report shall be brought before the Court by such parties as the Master shall direct by a motion or notice that such special report may be confirmed, discharged, or varied by order of the Court, or that any directions may be given thereon: and on the hearing of such motion the same shall be confirmed, discharged, or varied as the Court shall deem just, or such directions shall be given as shall appear to be necessary or expedient in that behalf.

LI. Where any order, direction, report, or other proceeding in the Master's office is objected to, it shall not be necessary to file objections or exceptions in the Master's office, but the party objecting shall serve notice of motion by way of appeal on the parties respectively in whose favor or at whose instance the order or proceedings appealed from was made; and upon the hearing of such appeal the proceedings which shall have taken place before the Master shall be produced in Court, and no further evidence shall, without express leave of the Court, be used except such proceedings; Provided always that except on special leave of the Court or a Judge to be obtained on motion ex parte, or on notice if the Court or Judge shall so direct, no such appeal shall be brought after the expiration of fourteen days after the order, direction, report, or other proceeding complained of shall have been made or taken place by or before the Master, or after service of the same, in case the party complaining shall not have been present.

LII. Parties desiring to inspect documents deposited in the Master's office shall take out a warrant to show cause why the documents should not be open for inspection during the period to be mentioned in the warrant, and the Master at the hearing shall fix the number of days according to the amount of inquiry he deems necessary, during which the books shall be open to inspection, and no other warrant shall be opened for such inspection.
